Rainfall Is Low for June Month Water Situation Report Is Given

Ulster County along with the rest of the Catskill Mountain and Hudson Valley areas, like other regions of the state, hit by an exceptionally dry June, are headed for a summer drought, unless soaking rains come soon, reports on last month's rainfall indicated today.

Edmund T. Cloonan, water superintendent, reported a June rainfall of only 1.62 inches in Kingston's supplying watershed, compared to 3.88 inches in June, 1963, and an average for the month of 4.36 inches.

The city engineer's office reported a June total of 2.19 inches compared to 4.70 in June, 1963, and New York City's water department reported 1.54 inches last month at Brown's Station, and 1.37 inches at Prattville. The totals compare to 4.59 inches and 3.72 inches in June, 1963.

Low for First Quarter

Cloonan noted a rainfall of 9.74 inches in the four months period, March through June, compared to 12.88 inches during the same period in 1963. The average for the four months is 16.52 inches.

Last month had seven days of mostly light rain, the city engineer's office reported. The heavy rain was .93 of an inch on June 24. Other rains were: .30 on the third, .33 on the sixth, .05 on the seventh, the same on the eighth, .13 on the 15th, and .40 on the 22nd. The total rainfall for the first six months of the year was 14.77 inches, which was considerably below average.

Cloonan reported Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir is down 2.70 feet from spillway level, which is in no way dangerous at this time, but he noted the water had not gone down that far in 1963 until Sept. 25.

Ashokan Holding Own

It was also noted that the cumulative rain for four months at this time of year in the drought year of 1957 was 9.87 inches, and this year the total is 9.74.

New York City's Ashokan Reservoir was reported "holding its own," but it was noted that conditions could change soon unless the area is benefited by sufficient rain.

Associated Press reports from Albany Monday noted that continued dry weather in the state has been costly to farmers and firefighters, and said while conservation and conservation officials agreed that a steady, soaking rain would ease the drought, only a few isolated thunderstorms were forecast. Such rains as promised are due at the end of the week.

Belle Faces 2 Years In Theft of $875,000

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Earl Belle, who gained fame as a youthful financier and later notoriety as a fugitive in Brazil, is behind prison bars today, faced with a 2½-year jail sentence.

The 32-year-old Pittsburgher, in a surprise move, appeared in U. S. District Court Tuesday and pleaded guilty to 26 counts of fraud and record falsification. He also was fined $10,000.

Belle, charged with pocketing $875,000 in corporate funds, pleaded no defense to 18 other counts.

Judge Rabe F. Marsh quizzed the balding, nattily attired Belle about his guilty plea and then imposed the jail term and fine.

Marsh also gave Belle a suspended sentence and placed him on five years probation in connection with federal indictments returned against him in New Jersey. The probation is to start after completion of the jail term.

Belle won fame in financial circles as the architect of a financial empire headquartered in Pittsburgh. It included the Eastern Investment Development Corp., Cornucopia Gold

RECORDS 100 DEGREES—The soaring mercury reached 100 at 2:50 p. m. Tuesday setting a new record high for June 30. The official reading was at the City Engineer's office at City Hall. The time and temperature sign at First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Fair Street, shows the three-figure reading. The previous high temperature for that date recorded at the City Engineer's office was 96 set in 1958 and 1959. The highest temperatures recorded in the city was 102 on July 1, 1959 and June 29, 1959. Kingston apparently was the hottest spot in the Mid-Hudson Valley. Albany recorded an official 98 and New York City and Poughkeepsie reported 99. (Freeman photo)

Points to Ike's Calm Strength

Scranton Says Barry In Warmonger Game

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today Sen. Barry Goldwater is "playing the warmongers' game" in proposing use of military force to solve some international problems.

Scranton declared he believes Goldwater, the frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination, "in his heart wants peace."

"Isn't he playing the warmongers' game when he proposes authorizing field commanders to use tactical nuclear weapons on their initiative; when he suggests sending Marines to capture the Guantánamo water?" he asked.

Reckless, He Charges

"These are reckless proposals," Scranton said. "They are the very opposite of the calm strength with which President Dwight D. Eisenhower for eight years maintained the world's peace."

Scranton returned to his attack on Goldwater after a respite Tuesday to appear before Illinois GOP convention delegates in his presidential bid. The 58-vote delegation handed Scranton a setback—but one he said he had expected.

Word Is Dirksen Will Nominate Barry Goldwater

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today that Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has told Sen. Barry Goldwater he will put Goldwater's name in nomination for the presidency at the Republican National Convention.

A copyright dispatch by Rowland Evans and Robert Novak from Washington said Dirksen came to the decision last week at his country home in Herndon, Va.

Studies Statement

Dirksen, the story said, spent several days studying the Arizona senator's statements on civil rights.

Neither Goldwater nor Dirksen was immediately available for comment on the report.

The Evans-Novak dispatch said Dirksen's decision "killed the last, best hope of the party's liberal to moderate forces to stop" Goldwater.

A poll of the Illinois delegation Tuesday showed 48 of the 58 delegates favoring Goldwater. Dirksen cast the first vote for him.

Mother of Three Is Still Missing At Area Campsite

A 26-year-old Albany mother of three children was the object of an all-night search after she reportedly disappeared while camping at North Lake State Park at Haines Falls, Greene County.

Local State Police said Mrs. Wandell Scheu, of Fourth Street, Albany, was last seen as she was walking toward a water section at the camp site. She was reported missing at about 8:30 p. m. by her husband.

Troopers, assisted by forest rangers in the area and local volunteers from Haines Falls, Tannersville and other nearby communities formed a search party and combed the area through the night without finding any trace of the woman.

Search Is Still On For Three Philadelphia Is Almost Normal

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—This little town—cast into national prominence 10 days ago by the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers—is almost back to normal.

The search for the missing trio goes on.

There are no more anxious groups of residents crowding street corners. Discussion of the mysterious disappearance is limited to quick questions and occasional jokes.

A week ago today, a large force of FBI agents, state highway patrolmen and other investigators moved into Philadelphia to comb the hills and swamps of Neshoba County for clues in the disappearance of Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro from nearby Meridian.

Sailors Join Search

Dungaree-clad sailors from the Navy's air field at Meridian joined the search by order of President Johnson.

The trio—part of a task force working on a sumo-er-long Negro voter registration campaign in this racially troubled state—were last seen the night of June 21 after posting $20 bond when jailed on a speeding charge.

Residents of Neshoba—it means "wolf" in Choctaw—were at first resentful of the invasion by investigators and nearly 100 newsmen.

"We're not accustomed to large numbers of strangers descending upon us at once and asking a lot of questions," said a local businessman.

Difficult to Tell

Last week it was difficult to tell if a warning to stay off the streets after dark was a warning or just friendly advice.

At Jackson, civil rights leaders announced they had dropped plans to send volunteer college students into parts of the state because of a "pattern of terror and vigilantism in the whole southwest and in the area northeast of Jackson."

Robert Moses, director of the Council of Federated Organizations' summer project, said paid staff workers—more experienced in civil rights work than the volunteers—probably would be sent into southwest Mississippi to assess the situation.

DAVID KLINE ARTHUR H. WITHALL

Three New Members Take Oaths

Two Top Officers Are Back in School Posts

David Kline, president of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated, and Arthur H. Withall, vice president, were unanimously reelected Tuesday night at the organizational meeting held in the George Washington School.

Three new members of the board officially were sworn in and took office at the session. They were Richard P. Boies and Harold E. Keator, both of Lake Katrine, and Francis Stern-Montagny, of Hurley. The latter has served by appointment in the place of Gifford Beal, who resigned last December after moving to Highland.

Trustee Kline welcomed the new members and spoke highly in praise of two retiring members, Howard L. Fox and Benson A. Krom, who did not seek another term. "Trustee Fox told board members that he enjoyed his terms in office and said he will be very much interested in education in the future."

Glad to Have Served

Trustee Krom, who is vacationing, had served during the terms of former board presidents Robert Herzog, George Schneider and Andrew T. Gilday.

In a letter to the board Krom said it had been a pleasure to serve with those men and also Trustee Kline, incumbent president. Krom said that although he is retiring as a board member he would be available at all times to assist in the furtherance of education in the Kingston School District.

After the year-end meeting of the board, Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, was appointed acting chairman.

Streets Are Listed

Mayor John J. Schwenk today reported the first phase of the city's 1964 street program more than half completed, and said the Board of Public Works has approved a second phase to be submitted to the Common Council July 7 with required appropriations.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, noted 17 projects listed for the second phase.

Mayor Schwenk said that, as of this date, new surfaces have been laid down on East Chester Street from Hasbrouck Avenue to the City Line, Main Street from Washington to Grandview Avenue, Lucas Avenue from Washington to the City Line, Highland Avenue from Clifton to East Chester Street, all of North Front Street, Albany Avenue from the Interchange to Clinton Avenue, Jansen Avenue from East O'Reilly to Prince Street, Main Street from Broadway to Honore Street, and Clinton Avenue from Albany to Main Street.

In addition work is going on or will soon be started on Mary's Avenue from Pine Grove to West O'Reilly Street, all of Prospect Street, all of Elizabeth Street, Wall Street from Main Street to North Front Street, and Broadway from O'Reilly to Prince Street, and Cedar Street to Henry Street.

This will complete phase one of the 1964 program.

Increase Is $633,919 Over the Past Year

New System of Bookkeeping to Show All Activity Expenses by State Order

Formal adoption of a $7,427,369 school budget for 1964-65, an increase of $633,919 over the budget for last year, was unanimously voted Tuesday night at the year-end meeting of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated.

The new budget shows an increase of $93,115 over the proposed tentative budget of $7,334,254 for the year aired at the public hearing held in May.

The estimated total to be raised by real property tax levy for school purposes amounts to $3,483,677 or $195,654 less than the total included in the proposed budget. The estimated levy is $204,772 more than the tax levy for 1963-64.

The Board noted that the estimated revenues other than real property taxes total $3,641,507 and an actual surplus of $302,185 boosts the total anticipated revenue for 1964-65 to $3,943,692.

While the present tax rate is $39.45 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, an increase in the tax rate for the next school year is anticipated, but the amount will not be determined until assessment rolls and the equalization rates are made known sometime in August.

The largest single item in the new budget adopted last night is $4,165,389 for instruction in regular day schools, an increase of $708,759 over the item of $3,456,630 for the same purposes for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Other Items Listed

Other items that make up the $7,427,369 budget total include: Board of Education (including salaries of employees, tax collection, auditing services, legal services, district meeting and census)—$27,510; central administration—$93,657; instruction—special schools $107,482; transportation—$371,463; operation and maintenance of plant—$665,281; unallocated items—service units—$8,870; employee benefits—$856,472; insurance—$53,488.60; unclassified $56,000; principal on debt service—$627,000; interest on debt service—$255,814.

Inter-fund transfers include $21,037 capital fund. The total general fund appropriations amount to $7,309,463, and a total of $117,906 in reserve for uncollected taxes makes the total budget $7,427,369.

All Must Be in Budget

Richard V. Roth, business manager for the Kingston Consolidated School System, explained to reporters after a year-end meeting that under a new double-entry bookkeeping system mandated by the State Education Department this year, all teacher-connected activities, including extra curricular and scholastic activities, must now be included in the district budget.

The new double-entry bookkeeping system makes more direct control of the Board of Education of monies actually spent and the amount of cash on hand.

Under the old bookkeeping system there were nine categories in the budget and the new double-entry system contains 11 categories, to be handled through the business office in charge of Manager Roth.

The Board unanimously approved an option to purchase property owned by the Kingston Transportation Co., 14 East Chester Street, as detailed in and according to the conditions contained in an agreement with the KTC signed by Trustee Kline as board president, and Thomas J. ## Scranton Supporter Depending On Eisenhower for Needed Push WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton's supporters, rebuffed in Illinois, clung to the hope today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would help prevent Sen. Barry Goldwater from getting the top presidential nomination.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who came home from his ambassadorial post in South Viet Nam with the avowed intention of promoting Scranton's candidacy had another opportunity to make a case for the Pennsylvania governor before a National Press Club luncheon audience today.

But all that Lodge reported after a 45-minute conference with the former president at Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday was the hope that the general would announce his preference for the nomination by the time he goes to the San Francisco convention on July 12.

Lodge conceded, in a hospital steps news conference, that he was being somewhat mysterious in saying that he was "on the whole, happy" with his conversation with Eisenhower.

The cold political facts were that Goldwater nailed down 48 of the 58 Illinois votes in a poll of the delegation after he and Scranton had appeared separately before the delegates. None of them lined up with Scranton.

No Mail Saturday; List PO Hours

The Kingston Post Office and its stations will not be open for business Saturday, July 4, a legal holiday. There will be no city delivery or rural service on this date.

Following is a schedule of hours being maintained for convenience of persons renting Post Office boxes:

Main Post Office—lobby open 6 a. m. to 2 p. m.
Uptown Station—lobby open 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.
Rondout Station—lobby open 8 a. m. to 10 a. m.

An Associated Press survey now credits Goldwater with 705 of the 1,308 convention delegates—50 more than the 655 needed for nomination if he holds them.

The survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 257 instructed by state or district conventions, 62 personally pledged to him and 288 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

Scranton, according to the survey, has 141 first-ballot votes—none of them bound to him. Lodge said he couldn't give any details of his discussion with Eisenhower on political matters.

Asked if Eisenhower—who he helped nudge into the 1952 successful race for the GOP nomination—had mentioned him as a possible substitute for Scranton to buck Goldwater, Lodge replied that the subject didn't even come up.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton's supporters, rebuffed in Illinois, clung to the hope today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would help prevent Sen. Barry Goldwater from getting the top presidential nomination.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who came home from his ambassadorial post in South Vietnam with the avowed intention of promoting Scranton's candidacy had another opportunity to make a case for the Pennsylvania governor before a National Press Club luncheon audience today.

But all that Lodge reported after a 45-minute conference with the former president at Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday was the hope that the general would announce his preference for the nomination by the time he goes to the San Francisco convention on July 12.

Lodge conceded, in a hospital steps news conference, that he was being somewhat mysterious in saying that he was "on the whole, happy" with his conversation with Eisenhower.

The cold political facts were that Goldwater nailed down 48 of the 58 Illinois votes in a poll of the delegation after he and Scranton had appeared separately before the delegates. None of them lined up with Scranton.

No Mail Saturday;
List PO Hours

The Kingston Post Office and its stations will not be open for business Saturday, July 4, a legal holiday. There will be no city delivery or rural service on this date.

Following is a schedule of hours being maintained for convenience of persons renting Post Office boxes:

Main Post Office—lobby open 6 a. m. to 2 p. m.
Uptown Station—lobby open 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.
Rondout Station—lobby open 8 a. m. to 10 a. m.

An Associated Press survey now credits Goldwater with 705 of the 1,308 convention delegates — 50 more than the 655 needed for nomination if he holds them.

The survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 257 instructed by state or district conventions, 62 personally pledged to him and 288 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

Scranton, according to the survey, has 141 first-ballot votes — none of them bound to him. Lodge said he couldn't give any details of his discussion with Eisenhower on political matters.

Asked if Eisenhower — whom he helped nudge into the 1952 successful race for the GOP nomination — had mentioned him as a possible substitute for Scranton to buck Goldwater, Lodge replied that the subject didn't even come up.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Today Jack Benny is the guest writer for Cynthia Lowry, who is on vacation.

By JACK BENNY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — We have many guest stars on my program. But before these personalities are scheduled to appear, I get together with my writers, and we come up with a point of view that will fit each one. Actually, we always start out with a clear slate—we let ideas grow, tossing them back and forth.

The one program that is the exception — one that we pretty well know about head of time — is the annual show we do with James Stewart and his wife, Gloria. They're my neighbors in Beverly Hills.

As almost everyone knows, the business of writing comedy is a serious one. Those who doubt this need only visit my set on Stage 2 at Revue Universal Studios. Look for the saddest — appearing men around. They will be my writers.

They get together and play with ideas. They call me after a while and say: "Jack, we've got it. This is fine. We think we have a good story line now."

They tell me where they are going with the show—what the script will be. We spend a great deal of time editing. We never let a show reach the cameras exactly the way it was first written.

But when you stop to think about it, my four writers have good reason to be happy fellows.

In addition to their unprecedented tenure with me, their love of life can be explained by the two Emmys and six Emmy nominations they have received from members of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

They have the opportunity to write lines for some of the biggest names in the entertainment business.

They have an employer who bears no resemblance to the miserly figure they have created.

My writers are Sam Perrin, George Balzer, Al Gordon and Hal Goldman. I think their team work is a record life-span for a group of comedy writers. Perrin and Balzer have been writing for me for 22 years. Gordon and Goldman can chalk up 17.

I can be fooled more easily than my writers. Sometimes I make the mistake of reading a script and saying "Fellas, I don't think this is very funny. I think the lines should be changed."

Every time I do that, I spend more time apologizing than you would believe.

Congress Passes
Transit Systems

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a five-year fight, Congress has passed its first program of federal aid for commuter mass transit systems.

President Johnson had strongly backed the measure.

Final congressional action came Tuesday when the Senate voted 47 to 36 to accept House changes in the bill, which provides $375 million in grants to cities and states over the next three years.

Sponsors said it should help at least a few cities to rebuild or halt the decline of transit systems that have suffered from competition with the automobile. Opponents called transit a local problem, and contended it would cost $10 billion for the federal government to undertake to meet all needs in the field.

Under the legislation, Washington would put up two-thirds of the net cost of any project. The state or city would provide the remaining one-third.

The federal funds could be used to buy land, right-of-way, parking facilities, buses, rail cars, signal equipment, stations and terminals.

The Senate passed its first transit aid bill in 1960, but the House has been reluctant to enter the field. The present bill, with strong support from the late President John F. Kennedy, received Senate approval in April 1963 and passed the House last Thursday 212 to 189.

State Will Sponsor
Training Projects

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Education Department Tuesday gave the go-ahead to 11 new manpower development and training projects and two other revised programs that will train a total of 920 persons at a cost of $588,613.

The new projects will provide training in nursing, stenography, machine operation, gas appliance servicing, auto body repair and clerical work.

The programs are sponsored by the state and federal education departments and the federal Bureau of Employment Security.

Local boards of education in Rochester, Jamestown, Geneva, Ithaca, Malone, Buffalo and New York City will supervise the new programs.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—July may become a month of decision in crucial sectors of the American economy.

On trial are the government's guidelines for labor wage scales and management pricing policies.

The extent of the slump in steel output may give a better clue to the real strength of the factors feeding the business upswing.

The trends of retail sales and consumer debt this month may finally tell the story about how Americans are reacting to the federal income tax cut. At issue—steady and calm growth, or quick boom and inflation.

The reaction to the civil rights bill, once signed, may foreshadow what's in store for the nation. Business has a big stake, both in what turmoil could do to trade and in how individual firms must realign policies to meet employment, sales, promotion and production policies and pressures.

The wage-price guidelines will get their most dramatic test this month in Detroit in the auto industry.

The government's controversial guidelines are designed to suggest in a general way the limits of wage increases and price advances that can be reached without upsetting the general price structure and setting off once more the old wage-price spiral that became the badge of inflation in the early postwar years.

In some industries, prices already have been creeping up—so far without setting off a general rise. Management in still others is talking of price increases if competitive conditions improve enough in coming weeks and months to make such hikes stick.

Labor leaders always watch the trends set by auto negotiations. And business this time more than ever eyes the Detroit talks for clues of what they may expect.

Steel isn't negotiating this summer. But if this proves wrong, the depths of the steel cycle may reveal just how strong is the over-all demand that is counted on to pull most industries to impressive heights after Labor Day.

There will be more things hot than just the weather. Civil rights, election campaigns, and attitudes of consumer, management and labor—all may heat up this month to spoil any anticipations that it's just a time for a sweet siesta.

'How to Succeed'

NEW YORK (AP)—Brazil, Denmark and Sweden each get productions this year, using indigenous talent, of the musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." The production in Rio de Janeiro is slated for mid-August, under management of Oscar OrNSTEIN, who previously presented "My Fair Lady."

SS Local Boards Set Call in July For 18-Year-Olds

New York State Selective Service Local Boards will begin in July to order 18-year-old registrants for complete examination by the Armed Forces, Andrew T. Gilday, chairman, Local Board No. 18, today.

Gilday emphasized that the examination of 18-year-olds does not mean that they face induction in the immediate future.

The examination of 18-year-olds who are out of school and not deferred for other reasons initiates a program announced by President Johnson on January 5, 1964. The President directed the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Selective Service to begin the early examination of 18-year-old registrants after a presidential task force study determined that large numbers of young men being found disqualified for military service were interested in obtaining educational, vocational, and medical rehabilitation.

In announcing the plan to examine 18-year-olds, the President pointed out that early examination will "enable those who are qualified for military service to plan intelligently their future careers in this respect. It will enable those found unqualified to get to work promptly on the education, training, or health services which can be of benefit to them."

The President also noted that "early examination will NOT mean early induction. There will be no change in the present practice of calling older registrants for actual induction into the Armed Forces before younger ones are called."

At the present time, men are being reached for induction between 21½ and 22, as a national average. In New York State, the average age of involuntary induction is about 21½ Gilday said.

Narration Recorded

GARRISON, N. Y. (AP) — Helen Hayes and Gary Merrill are to be heard but not seen in a pageant about the early history of the Hudson River Valley being presented all summer at Boscobel Restoration. The program utilizes the "Sound and Light" techniques, widely used vacation attractions in Europe. The hour-long narrative recorded by the players describes events from Henry Hudson's exploration of the Catskill region to the time of States Dyckman, who built the elaborate country estate.

The wage-price guidelines will get their most dramatic test this month in Detroit in the auto industry.

The government's controversial guidelines are designed to suggest in a general way the limits of wage increases and price advances that can be reached without upsetting the general price structure and setting off once more the old wage-price spiral that became the badge of inflation in the early postwar years.

In some industries, prices already have been creeping up—so far without setting off a general rise. Management in still others is talking of price increases if competitive conditions improve enough in coming weeks and months to make such hikes stick.

Labor leaders always watch the trends set by auto negotiations. And business this time more than ever eyes the Detroit talks for clues of what they may expect.

Steel isn't negotiating this summer. But if this proves wrong, the depths of the steel cycle may reveal just how strong is the over-all demand that is counted on to pull most industries to impressive heights after Labor Day.

There will be more things hot than just the weather. Civil rights, election campaigns, and attitudes of consumer, management and labor—all may heat up this month to spoil any anticipations that it's just a time for a sweet siesta.

SS Local Boards Set Call in July For 18-Year-Olds

New York State Selective Service Local Boards will begin in July to order 18-year-old registrants for complete examination by the Armed Forces, Andrew T. Gilday, chairman, Local Board No. 18, today.

Gilday emphasized that the examination of 18-year-olds does not mean that they face induction in the immediate future.

The examination of 18-year-olds who are out of school and not deferred for other reasons initiates a program announced by President Johnson on January 5, 1964. The President directed the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Selective Service to begin the early examination of 18-year-old registrants after a presidential task force study determined that large numbers of young men being found disqualified for military service were interested in obtaining educational, vocational, and medical rehabilitation.

In announcing the plan to examine 18-year-olds, the President pointed out that early examination will "enable those who are qualified for military service to plan intelligently their future careers in this respect. It will enable those found unqualified to get

The President also noted that "early examination will NOT mean early induction. There will be no change in the present practice of calling older registrants for actual induction into the Armed Forces before younger ones are called."

At the present time, men are being reached for induction between 21½ and 22, as a national average. In New York State, the average age of involuntary induction is about 21½. Gilday said.

Narration Recorded

GARRISON, N. Y. (AP)—Helen Hayes and Gary Merrill are to be heard but not seen in a pageant about the early history of the Hudson River Valley being presented all summer at Boscobel Restoration. The program utilizes the "Sound and Light" techniques, widely used in vacation attractions in Europe. The hour-long narrative recorded by the players describes events from Henry Hudson's exploration of the Catskill region to the time of States Dyckman, who built the elaborate country estate.

DEATH BY DEFAULT

A Columbia University psychologist recently told a conference of judges most drivers are fatalistic about traffic accidents. His studies showed drivers believed "accidents just happen when my number comes up, that's it."

The trouble with this attitude is that it obscures reason. Accidents just don't happen. When safety experts say they can reduce accidents by 50 per cent by applying what we know accidents are no longer "accidents" in the true sense of the word. They reflect a cause and effect problem which can be reduced. They are caused and the causes are many.

An upset stomach, a headache or hangover, a quarrel with one's wife, office trouble, carelessness, poor judgment, frayed nerves, speeding, tailgating, drinking and reckless driving are just a few items which can be listed in the causative category.

All of these will play an important part in the number of accidents which will occur over the July 4th weekend. An estimated 8 to 10 million vehicles will criss-cross New York in this period. If the average driver, simply observed a few common sense precautions, his chances of survival would be greatly enhanced.

Drive carefully at all times.
While driving, don't speed or drink.
Plan trips in advance and plan for rest periods.

Check lights, tires, water and brakes.
Observe the law and keep an ample distance between your car and cars in front to allow for emergency braking or stops in a hazardous situation.

Coupled with personal precaution is the necessity for strict enforcement. Not merely by police, but by the prosecutors and the courts. It is time for the police, prosecutors and the courts to assume a more aggressive role and leadership in the campaign for safety on our roads. They can only do this if they recognize that they must work as a coordinated team and not independently of each other. We must learn to plan and work together so that we can live out our normal life on earth without the senseless interruption of death by default on a lonely road.

Rockefeller says he'll back Scranton both politically and financially. Well, the money ought to come in handy.

OUT FOR A SWIM

There's one thing about this generation: it thinks big. A few decades back, English Channel swims were the rage and people acquired goose pimples at the idea of Lindy flying the Atlantic. Now a young woman named Britt Sullivan has set out to cross the same Atlantic—to swim across it.

A kind of gimmick is involved. Miss Sullivan is not simply going to plough on and on through the briny until she touches England a few months hence. She plans to swim 18 hours a day and rest 6 using an 84-foot schooner as her resting spot.

The question that comes to mind is: Why? Why does a young woman want to spend about five months of her life swimming across the Atlantic? This generation, it would seem, not only thinks big; it also thinks cuckoo.

KERNELS OF WISDOM

The trouble with advice is that if it's any good, it's apt to sound corny.

Take, for example, what a highly successful business man told a graduating class in a commencement address the other day: One: To take pride in their work, to develop real skill, to demand of themselves the very best they could possibly do and more than what was required.

Two: To be dependable—to be where they're supposed to be, doing what they're counted upon to do, and to do it so unflinchingly that it would never occur to anyone to doubt they would do it.

Three: To be loyal to their trade, their job, their employer and their principles. The speaker pointed out that the four loy-

AGAINST PEOPLE WHO HATE THEMSELVES

I've just caught up with the alleged comedy of Lenny Bruce, the "sick" satirist who specializes in a night club patter that takes off on wild and frequently disgusting flights which, nevertheless, succeed in exposing the hypocrisies of professionally noble people as well as the nasty things that nobility ought to revolt against. Because he is candid enough to reveal his sick fantasies in public, the law has been after Mr. Bruce, both in Chicago and in Los Angeles, and now, I understand, it is getting after him in New York. The rap against him in Chicago was obscenity, the penalty being a year in jail and a $1,000 fine. His conviction on the charge is now being appealed.

Bruce's patter is, for long stretches, hard to dig for a square like myself, and I am of two minds—ambivalent is the fancy word for it—about his humor. I could do without his four-letter words and his liking for scatological references, even though I realize he is deliberately throwing them at people whose own language is something to apologize for when they take one martini too many. But when Mr. Bruce, being deliberately sly, tosses about certain words that bring up the same images evoked by the "art" pictures in conventional magazines, it is hard to see why he should get an obscenity rap when so many respectable folk who appeal to the same instincts go free.

My real objection to Lenny Bruce is not that he becomes lurid in taking off after hypocrites, but that he obviously loathes himself. Since there is such a thing as original sin—meaning original imperfection in the moral sphere—there isn't a person living who is entitled to feel exempt from self-criticism. But it is the mark of the decent human being to work at improving on the original self that has been handed to him by nature. As Emerson said, "Do what you can with what you've got." This profound bit of nineteenth century wisdom was accepted by the comics of other generations. Mark Twain loathed hypocrites just as strongly as does Lenny Bruce, but he wrote feelingly about Huckleberry Finn, who was honest personified in a boy who resisted corruption. Finley Peter Dunne, the creator of Mr. Dooley, could puncture the double-dealing ward politicians of his day, and also hit at some ward politics in higher places. But he recognized the moral drive in the public life of his day as symbolized by Theodore Roosevelt. Twain and Finley Dunne were not sick in these senses.

To my mind, they are trying to get Lenny Bruce on the wrong rap. And, of course, there is no legal way to get him on the charge that should be brought against him. There is no law in this country against self-hatred.

Speaking of hypocrisy, we might mention that the sanctimonious Soviets withdrew their man, Alex Metreveli, from the Wimbledon tennis tournament rather than have him face a South African player, Abe Segal. If the Russians objected to meeting South Africans, they shouldn't have entered the tournament in the first place. And if the Wimbledon authorities were obliged to take the political behavior of countries into consideration when making up their list of international competitors, there would be no tournament at all. Certainly no Soviet citizen would ever be invited to play. It is perfectly true that apartheid in South Africa is offensive to a morality which accepts all of God's children as equal in law and justice, but when have the Soviets ever abided by such morality? Did the Hungarians who wished to free their country in 1956 get justice from Moscow? Did the Polish officers who were murdered in the Katyn Forest get a fair trial?

Arthur Ashe, Jr., the Negro tennis player from California, spoke with the voice of common sense when he said, "I am a Negro and apartheid objectively concerns me. But I would play Segal any time. I have to look at Segal as an individual . . . if you want to be consistent about it, I wouldn't go out to play the Russians. I don't like what they are doing either."

Mr. Ashe obviously respects himself, and is following the Emerson line of doing what he can with what he's got. He might even win the Wimbledon tournament one of these days. He is a living reproof both to hypocrites and to sick humorists who hate themselves.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Planning a Vacation? Check Immunizations

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you are planning a trip, you will be wise to check with your doctor about immunizing shots. Nothing can spoil a vacation like an illness.

If you expect to spend some time in outdoor sports, get your tetanus toxoid injections or, if you have had them, a booster. Get smallpox vaccination if you plan to leave the United States. Without a valid certificate of vaccination you will have trouble getting back into this country.

If you trip will take you into areas where the water supply is polluted, you should have typhoid and paratyphoid shots. These are usually combined. And if you have any reason to believe that you might get infectious hepatitis, have an injection of gamma globulin. All these things should be taken care of three or four weeks before you start.

While on vacation there is always a tendency to overeat. Use common sense and avoid eating more than you customarily eat at home. The object of your trip is to relax and have a good time not to put on excess weight.

Take appropriate clothing with you—especially comfortable walking shoes. Remember that it gets cold in the mountains at night even after the hottest days. If you wear glasses you should carry an extra pair.

Although most medical items you may need can be picked up in the nearest town, it is well to take a kit with you because you may need some of the following items when the stores are closed:

...Tweezers will be handy for removing splinters or holding a pad of sterile cotton if you have to clean a wound. The cotton is also useful, when dampened, for removing dirt from the eye. I wonder how our forefathers ever got along without adhesive bandages.

Paregoric is still the best treatment for diarrhea or abdominal cramps. But if the diarrhea persists for more than two days you should find a doctor. If you are going to be in one place, your family doctor may be able to recommend a doctor in the vicinity of your visit. Otherwise, have the local medical society suggest two or three names (they are not permitted to recommend one name only). You should, of course, carry with you a supply of any drugs you are taking regularly.

Have fun but don't overdo it. If you try to soak up a week of sunshine in one day you will wish you had stayed at home. And if you try to play more holes of golf or more sets of tennis than you are accustomed to, you will wake up with sore muscles and stiff joints. Plan to return home refreshed instead of feeling that what you need most is another vacation.

alties aren't nearly as incompatible as many people believe.

This advice, of course, can be written off as pure corn from Squaresville. But a lot of very successful and contented people have made it work.

Rep. Katharine St. George of New York says handbags are as necessary to a woman as pockets are to a man—but with the money going as fast as it does these days, pockets are really not much of a necessity.

"Let's Talk This Over!"

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — This has been a bad year for those who would argue that the influence of the church in American affairs is waning. It has had tremendous impact in two controversial fields—civil rights and the issue of school prayer.

As his southern forces went down to defeat on the 1964 civil rights bill, Georgia's Sen. Richard Russell singled out church support of the measure as one of the decisive factors. There is still no sign of a decision, even at the congressional committee level, on the question of a U. S. constitutional amendment to allow prayer in the nation's schools. But committee testimony produced very heavy church opposition to the idea.

Should amendment proposals eventually languish and die in Congress, the combined opposition of churches and many legal experts probably would be credited.

IN THE WEEKS OF TESTIMONY before the House Judiciary Committee on school prayer, more than a dozen major church groups spoke against any amendment.

Reflecting either convention action or the views of interim governing bodies, this opposition included both Southern and American Baptist, the United Presbyterians, Methodists, many Episcopalians, leaders, three branches of the Lutheran church, the Roman Catholic hierarchy at that time avoided any official pronouncement. But now the legal authorities of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, whose statements have virtually official status, advise Catholic bishops to view all proposed school prayer amendments with caution.

THIS FORMIDABLE ARRAY of churchmen lined up against a constitutional amendment is surely a source of great annoyance to the many staunch advocates of change.

The heart of their complaint is the charge that the Supreme Court, in banning school prayer, took a position hostile to religion in American life. The complaint has been vastly weakened by church testimony in support of the court's view.

Official church attitudes are especially frustrating to southern backers of prayer amendments. A survey of school authorities across the country shows that only in the South is the practice of prayer in school a common thing. The situation is mixed in the East and Midwest, and there is almost none of it in the Far West.

The impending final enactment of a civil rights bill helped along mightily by church effort will thus give the South two major scores against U. S. churchdom. Southern outrage could become explosive if school prayer amendments finally do fail.

IN SUCH AN EVENT, however, the position of many eminent lawyers and law professors would be appraised as significant. A prime exhibit in House committee hands is a letter of opposition signed by 223 attorneys and legal scholars. The latter includes most of the best known constitutional experts in the United States.

Testimony among educators was more evenly divided, but even here the weight of comment was against the amendments.

By contrast with all this, 93 of the 98 congressmen who appeared were in support of constitutional change. They and many of their fellows have been buried in the greatest avalanche of mail in congressional history.

When Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler of New York will summon his committee to weigh the testimony is uncertain. The day could be weeks off, at least. And before then the committee members will soon find an incredible committee hearing record of 3,500 pages — not to mention a mountain of separate exhibits.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Golf is America's reply to psychiatry, just as trichinosis is the pig's reply to the hog. It is a game for men too old for girls and too young to resist the trap. Basically, golf is a target game, in which a hard rubber ball is flogged with awkward clubs until it falls into a 4-1/4 hole surmounted by a flag.

It is played by nervous nuts who tell each other how relaxing it is. Colonel Stoopnagle once referred to it as the most fun without laughing there is of. Hardly. Newspapers publish daily hints on how to hold the club, how to swing it, how to stand, how to putt.

Twenty-five years ago I lost my mind and bought a bag of clubs. Between that time and this, I have played the world's poorest self and have convinced myself, while gnashing my teeth down to the gumline, that I'm having fun. A magazine called Sports Illustrated last month noted that I had lost four dozen balls in one round of golf at Lucaya, on Grand Bahama Island.

This is libel. I lost three dozen balls, which can be attested to under oath by my wife, Kelly Bishop; Allan Witwer, a writer; and Joyce Lee, a Chinese girl who can throw the ball overhand further than I can hit it. They counted the lost balls. Mr. Witwer sagely observed: "Stand behind him. He hits to all fields."

The origin of golf is obscure, but the Scots made it popular. In March 1457, the Scottish Parliament passed a law forbidding the "lords and barons spiritual and temporal" from playing more than four times a year because, gadzooks, the jerks were neglecting their archery. Mary Stuart played golf "a few days after the murder of her husband."

Dwight D. Eisenhower golfed through eight years as President. Woodrow Wilson did it in plus-fours. Charles I was off the fairway at Leith in 1641 when an equestrian brought news of the Irish rebellion. Like a sensible monarch, he continued to look for his ball.

Today, America has almost as many golf courses as large farms. Scores of millions of men and women get out of bed at dawn to work off their aggressions by mounting a ball on a small wooden peg and glaring at it. I have never seen a golfer who did not make an ideal swing in practice.

It is when you put a ball in front of him that form and temper go down the drain together. Without the ball, he is self on the back of the head, come down with all his might, and send the ball bounding a good fifteen yards into a ditch.

He swears loud, throws the club in air, and tells everyone how good it is to be out in God's clean air. Nick Bersan of the Diplomat Course in Florida says one golfer came in after 18 holes, banged his head against a locker wall, and slashed both wrists. While he was bleeding to death, a pal stuck his head in the doorway and said: "Gonna play tomorrow?" and the suicide said: "What time?"

On the 18th hole at Bamm Hollow in Red Bank, N. J., I

Word 'Impulsive' Studied With Political Connection

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Impulsive" seems to have become a popular word in the political vocabulary of the hour. Maybe it will even provide an issue in the campaign.

Governor Scranton of Pennsylvania uses the word in describing Senator Goldwater's alleged lack of qualification for the Presidency. Henry Cabot Lodge, just returned from serving as ambassador to Viet Nam in order to campaign for the Pennsylvania Governor, promptly adopts the word as applying to the Arizona senator. So perhaps it is timely to make an exhaustive analysis, if not a "Sophisticated" study, of just what the word means, historically as well as in the field of political debate.

It was just a short span of years ago, in the summer of 1950 that an important decision confronted a Democratic President, Harry Truman. The communist armies had crossed the 38th parallel from North Korea to invade the territory of South Korea. Within 48 hours after the communist invasion, the president—without waiting for the U. N. to organize an international army and without asking Congress to authorize the employment of our military forces—had ordered the U. S. sea and air forces into action against the invaders. Was this "Impulsive"?

It was under a Republican President, Dwight Eisenhower, in the autumn of 1957, that trouble developed in Little Rock, Ark., where a Federal Court had ordered a public school to desegregate. The State's National Guard, sent by the Governor to preserve order at the high school, was withdrawn on orders from the court, and there was some disorder near the school as the Negro students entered. But in the course of a few hours that evening the advisers around the President became panicky and urged that federal troops be ordered to the scene. He agreed and issued a proclamation threatening the use of federal forces, and they took charge the next morning even though the violence had subsided and before the local populace or police had been given an opportunity to show compliance with the warning proclamation. Was this "impulsive"?

It was under another Democratic President, John F. Kennedy, in April 1961, that Cuban exiles undertook an invasion of their homeland. The United States government had worked with the exiled Cubans for several months to plan and implement the operation and to give clandestine help. Air support was expected as a natural military maneuver essential to the success of the project. American naval forces were standing by when the Cuban exiles landed at the Bay of Pigs. But the President's advisers — including Adlai Stevenson, American ambassador to the United Nations — had persuaded Mr. Kennedy to cancel an airstrike by the Cuban exiles designed to knock out Castro's air force, and to forbid U. S. planes to be used at any time, since this might create an unfavorable impression in the United Nations.

It is reported that Mr. Kennedy later changed his mind again and told the Cubans they could make the airstrike and also agreed to allow U. S. planes to provide desperately needed air cover, but it was all too late.

The expedition failed, and thus the United States lost an opportunity to get rid of the Castro problem. Can the president's action in suddenly overriding his military advisers be called "impulsive"?

Governor Scranton, a few weeks ago, had a long talk with former President Eisenhower at Gettysburg, and the impression was given that the Governor was making himself available for the nomination. The next day, however, on a television appearance, he said things which indicated that he was not in the race for the Presidential nomination. Was this "impulsive," or does the word better describe the action of Mr. Scranton five days later in reversing himself and becoming an active candidate?

Former Ambassador Lodge said this week that a President must not only refrain from "Impulsiveness," but must be "Prudent." There comes to mind the action of Senator Goldwater of public opinion was pushing the "Civil Rights" bill to passage by Congress. But Mr. Goldwater carefully studied past decisions of the Supreme Court and concluded that the measure as drawn was in violation of the Constitution, which, as a senator, he has taken an oath to support. So he decided to vote against the bill.

Certainly it cannot be charged that Mr. Goldwater was "Impulsive," but may it be said that he was "Imprudent" by his vote? The answer isn't immediately available, as the political dictionary of the year has not gone to press as yet. For what is politically "prudent" in 1964 will not be established until after the Presidential election has taken place in November.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 1, 1964

DEATH BY DEFAULT

A Columbia University psychologist recently told a conference of judges most drivers are fatalistic about traffic accidents. His studies showed drivers believed "accidents just happen when my number comes up, that's it."

The trouble with this attitude is that it obscures reason. Accidents just don't happen. When safety experts say they can reduce accidents by 50 per cent by applying what we know accidents are no longer "accidents" in the true sense of the word. They reflect a cause and effect problem which can be reduced. They are caused and the causes are many.

An upset stomach, a headache or hangover, a quarrel with one's wife, office trouble, carelessness, poor judgment, frayed nerves, speeding, tailgating, drinking and reckless driving are just a few items which can be listed in the causative category.

All of these will play an important part in the number of accidents which will occur over the July 4th weekend. An estimated 8 to 10 million vehicles will criss-cross New York in this period. If the average driver, simply observed a few common sense precautions, his chances of survival would be greatly enhanced.

Drive carefully at all times.
While driving, don't speed or drink.
Plan trips in advance and plan for rest periods.

Check lights, tires, water and brakes.
Observe the law and keep an ample distance between your car and cars in front to allow for emergency braking or stops in a hazardous situation.

Coupled with personal precaution is the necessity for strict enforcement. Not merely by police, but by the prosecutors and the courts. It is time for the police, prosecutors and the courts to assume a more aggressive role and leadership in the campaign for safety on our roads. They can only do this if they recognize that they must work as a coordinated team and not independently of each other. We must learn to plan and work together so that we can live out our normal life on earth without the senseless interruption of death by default on a lonely road.

Rockefeller says he'll back Scranton both politically and financially. Well, the money ought to come in handy.

OUT FOR A SWIM

There's one thing about this generation: it thinks big. A few decades back, English Channel swims were the rage and people acquired goose pimples at the idea of Lindy flying the Atlantic. Now a young woman named Britt Sullivan has set out to cross the same Atlantic—to swim across it.

A kind of gimmick is involved. Miss Sullivan is not simply going to plough on and on through the briny until she touches England a few months hence. She plans to swim 18 hours a day and rest 6 using an 84-foot schooner as her resting spot.

The question that comes to mind is: Why? Why does a young woman want to spend about five months of her life swimming across the Atlantic? This generation, it would seem, not only thinks big; it also thinks cuckoo.

KERNELS OF WISDOM

The trouble with advice is that if it's any good, it's apt to sound corny.

Take, for example, what a highly successful business man told a graduating class in a commencement address the other day:

One: To take pride in their work, to develop real skill, to demand of themselves the very best they could possibly do and more than what was required.

Two: To be dependable—to be where they're supposed to be, doing what they're counted upon to do, and to do it so unfailingly that it would never occur to anyone to doubt they would do it.

Three: To be loyal to their trade, their job, their employer and their principles. The speaker pointed out that the four loy-

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

AGAINST PEOPLE WHO HATE THEMSELVES

I've just caught up with the alleged comedy of Lenny Bruce, the "sick" satirist who specializes in a night club patter that takes off on wild and frequently disgusting flights which, nevertheless, succeed in exposing the hypocrisies of professionally noble people as well as the nasty things that nobility ought to revolt against. Because he is candid enough to reveal his sick fantasies in public, the law has been after Mr. Bruce, both in Chicago and in Los Angeles, and now, I understand, it is getting after him in New York. The rap against him in Chicago was obscenity, the penalty being a year in jail and a $1,000 fine. His conviction on the charge is now being appealed.

Bruce's patter is, for long stretches, hard to dig for a square like myself, and I am of two minds—ambivalent is the fancy word for it—about his humor. I could do without his four-letter words and his liking for scatological references, even though I realize he is deliberately throwing them at people whose own language is something to apologize for when they take one martini too many. But when Mr. Bruce, being deliberately sly, tosses about certain words that bring up the same images evoked by the "art" pictures in conventional magazines, it is hard to see why he should get an obscenity rap when so many respectable folk who appeal to the same instincts go free.

My real objection to Lenny Bruce is not that he becomes lurid in taking off after hypocrites, but that he obviously loathes himself. Since there is such a thing as original sin—meaning original imperfection in the moral sphere—there isn't a person living who is entitled to feel exempt from self-criticism. But it is the mark of the decent human being to work at improving on the original self that has been handed to him by nature. As Emerson said, "Do what you can with what you've got." This profound bit of nineteenth century wisdom was accepted by the comics of other generations. Mark Twain bathed hypocrites just as strongly as does Lenny Bruce, but he wrote feelingly about Huckleberry Finn, who was honest personified in a boy who resisted corruption. Finley Peter Dunne, the creator of Mr. Dooley, could puncture the double-dealing ward politicians of his day, and also hit at some ward politics in higher places. But he recognized the moral drive in the public life of his day as symbolized by Theodore Roosevelt. Twain and Finley Dunne were not sick in themselves.

To my mind, they are trying to get Lenny Bruce on the wrong rap. And, of course, there is no legal way to get him on the charge that should be brought against him. There is no law in this country against self-hatred.

Speaking of hypocrisy, we might mention that the sanctimonious Soviets withdrew their man, Alex Metreveli, from the Wimbledon tennis tournament rather than have him face a South African player, Abe Segal. If the Russians objected to meeting South Africans, they shouldn't have entered the tournament in the first place. And if the Wimbledon authorities were obliged to take the political behavior of countries into consideration when making up their list of international competitors, there would be no tournament at all. Certainly no Soviet citizen would ever be invited to play. It is perfectly true that apartheid in South Africa is offensive to a morality which accepts all of God's children as equal in law and justice, but when have the Soviets ever abided by such morality? Did the Hungarians who wished to free their country in 1956 get justice from Moscow? Did the Polish officers who were murdered in the Katyn Forest get a fair trial?

Arthur Ashe, Jr., the Negro tennis player from California, spoke with the voice of common sense when he said, "I am a Negro and apartheid objectively concerns me. But I would play Segal any time. I have to look at Segal as an individual. . . . If you want to be consistent about it, I wouldn't go out to play the Russians. I don't like what they are doing either."

Mr. Ashe obviously respects himself, and is following the Emerson line of doing what he can with what he's got. He might even win the Wimbledon tournament one of these days. He is a living reproof both to hypocrites and to sick humorists who hate themselves. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Planning a Vacation?
Check Immunizations

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you are planning a trip, you will be wise to check with your doctor about immunizing shots. Nothing can spoil a vacation like an illness.

If you expect to spend some time in outdoor sports, get your tetanus toxoid injections or, if you have had them, a booster. Get smallpox vaccination if you plan to leave the United States. Without a valid certificate of vaccination you will have trouble getting back into this country.

If you trip will take you into areas where the water supply is polluted, you should have typhoid and paratyphoid shots. These are usually combined. And if you have any reason to believe that you might get infectious hepatitis, have an injection of gamma globulin. All these things should be taken care of three or four weeks before you start.

While on vacation there is always a tendency to overeat. Use common sense and avoid eating more than you customarily eat at home. The object of your trip is to relax and have a good time not to put on excess weight.

Take appropriate clothing with you—especially comfortable walking shoes. Remember that it gets cold in the mountains at night even after the hottest days. If you wear glasses you should carry an extra pair.

Although most medical items you may need can be picked up in the nearest town, it is well to take a kit with you because you may need some of the following items when the stores are closed:

...Tweezers will be handy for removing splinters or holding a pad of sterile cotton if you have to clean a wound. The cotton is also useful, when dampened, for removing dirt from the eye. I wonder how our forefathers ever got along without adhesive bandages.

Paregoric is still the best treatment for diarrhea or abdominal cramps. But if the diarrhea persists for more than two days you should find a doctor. If you are going to be in one place, your family doctor may be able to recommend a doctor in the vicinity of your visit. Otherwise, have the local medical society suggest two or three names (they are not permitted to recommend one name only). You should, of course, carry with you a supply of any drugs you are taking regularly.

Have fun but don't overdo it. If you try to soak up a week of sunshine in one day you will wish you had stayed at home. And if you try to play more holes of golf or more sets of tennis than you are accustomed to, you will wake up with sore muscles and stiff joints. Plan to return home refreshed instead of feeling that what you need most is another vacation.

alties aren't nearly as incompatible as many people believe.

This advice, of course, can be written off as pure corn from Squaresville. But a lot of very successful and contented people have made it work.

Rep. Katharine St. George of New York says handbags are as necessary to a woman as pockets are to a man—but with the money going as fast as it does these days, pockets are really not much of a necessity.

"Let's Talk This Over!"

Washington News

BY BRUCE BHOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — This has been a bad year for those who would argue that the influence of the church in American affairs is waning. It has had tremendous impact in two controversial fields—civil rights and the issue of school prayer.

As his southern forces went down to defeat on the 1964 civil rights bill, Georgia's Sen. Richard Russell singled out church support of the measure as one of the decisive factors.

There is still no sign of a decision, even at the congressional committee level, on the question of a U. S. constitutional amendment to allow prayer in the nation's schools. But committee testimony produced very heavy church opposition to the idea.

Should amendment proposals eventually languish and die in Congress, the combined opposition of churches and many legal experts probably would be credited.

IN THE WEEKS OF TESTIMONY before the House Judiciary Committee on school prayer, more than a dozen major church groups spoke against any amendment.

Reflecting either convention action or the views of interim governing bodies, this opposition included both Southern and American Baptist, the United Presbyterians, Methodists, many Episcopalians, leaders of three branches of the Lutheran church, The Roman Catholic hierarchy at that time avoided any official pronouncement. But now the legal authorities of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, whose statements have virtually official status, advise Catholic bishops to view all proposed school prayer amendments with caution.

a constitutional amendment is surely a source of great annoyance to the many staunch advocates of change.

The heart of their complaint is the charge that the Supreme Court, in banning school prayer, took a position hostile to religion in American life. The complaint has been vastly weakened by church testimony in support of the court's view.

Official church attitudes are especially frustrating to southern backers of prayer amendments. A survey of school authorities across the country shows that only in the South is the practice of prayer in school a common thing. The situation is mixed in the East and Midwest, and there is almost none of it in the Far West.

The impending final enactment of a civil rights bill helped along mightily by church effort will thus give the South two major scores against U. S. churchdom. Southern outrage could become explosive if school prayer amendments finally do fail.

IN SUCH AN EVENT, however, the position of many eminent lawyers and law professors would be appraised as significant. A prime exhibit in House committee hands is a letter of opposition signed by 223 attorneys and legal scholars. The latter includes most of the best known constitutional experts in the United States.

Testimony among educators was more evenly divided, but even here the weight of comment was against the amendments.

By contrast with all this, 93 of the 98 congressmen who appeared were in support of constitutional change. They and many of their fellows have been buried in the greatest avalanche of mail in congressional history.

When Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler of New York will summon his committee to weigh the testimony is uncertain. The day could be weeks off, at least. And before then the committee members will soon find an incredible committee hearing record of 3,500 pages—not to mention a mountain of separate exhibits.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Golf is America's reply to psychiatry, just as trichinosis is the pig's reply to the hog. It is a game for men too old for girls and too young to resist the trap. Basically, golf is a target game, in which a hard rubber ball is flogged with awkward clubs until it falls into a 4-1/2 hole surmounted by a flag.

It is played by nervous nuts who tell each other how relaxing it is. Colonel Stoopnagle once referred to it as the most fun without laughing there is of. Hardly. Newspapers publish daily hints on how to hold the club, how to swing it, how to stand, how to putt.

Twenty-five years ago I lost my mind and bought a bag of clubs. Between that time and this, I have played the world's poorest golf and have convinced myself, while gnashing my teeth down to the gumline, that I'm having fun. A magazine called Sports Illustrated last month noted that I had lost four dozen balls in one round of golf at Lucaya, on Grand Bahama Island.

This is libel. I lost three dozen balls, which can be attested to under oath by my wife, Kelly Bishop; Allan Witwer, a writer; and Joyce Lee, a Chinese girl who can throw the ball overhand further than I can hit it. They counted the lost balls. Mr. Witwer sagely observed: "Stand behind him. He hits to all fields."

The origin of golf is obscure, but the Scots made it popular. In March 1457, the Scottish Parliament passed a law forbidding the "lroids and barons spiritual and temporal" from playing more than four times a year because, gadzooks, the jerks were neglecting their archery. Mary Stuart played golf "a few days after the murder of her husband."

Dwight D. Eisenhower golfed through eight years as President. Woodrow Wilson did it in plus-fours. Charles I was off the fairway at Leith in 1641 when an enquiry brought news of the Irish rebellion. Like a sensible monarch, he continued to look for his ball.

Today, America has almost as many golf courses as large farms. Scores of millions of men and women get out of bed at dawn to work off their aggressions by mounting a ball on a small wooden peg and glaring at it. I have never seen a golfer who did not make an ideal swing in practice.

It is when you put a ball in front of him that form and temper go down the drain together. Without the ball, he is self on the back of the head, come down with all his might, and send the ball bounding a good fifteen yards into a ditch.

He swears loud, throws the club in air, and tells everyone how good it is to be out in God's clean air. Nick Borsan of the Diplomat Course in Florida says one golfer came in after 18 holes, banged his head against a locker wall, and slashed both wrists. While he was bleeding to death, a pal stuck his head in the doorway and said: "Gonna play tomorrow?" and the suicide said: "What time?"

Word 'Impulsive' Studied With Political Connection

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON— "Impulsive" seems to have become a popular word in the political vocabulary of the hour. Maybe it will even provide an issue in the campaign.

Governor Scranton of Pennsylvania uses the word in describing Senator Goldwater's alleged lack of qualification for the Presidency. Henry Cabot Lodge, just returned from serving as ambassador to Viet Nam in order to campaign for the Pennsylvania Governor, promptly adopts the word as applying to the Arizona senator. So perhaps it is timely to make an exhaustive analysis, if not a "Sophisticated" study, of just what the word means historically as well as in the field of political debate.

It was just a short span of years ago, in the summer of 1950 that an important decision confronted a Democratic President, Harry Truman. The communist armies had crossed the 38th parallel from North Korea to invade the territory of South Korea. Within 48 hours after the communist invasion, the president—without waiting for the U. N. to organize an international army and without asking Congress to authorize the employment of our military forces—had ordered the U. S. sea and air forces into action against the invaders. Was this "Impulsive"?

It was under a Republican President, Dwight Eisenhower, in the autumn of 1957, that trouble developed in Little Rock, Ark., where a Federal Court had ordered a public school to desegregate. The State's National Guard, sent by the Governor to preserve order at the high school, was withdrawn on orders from the court, and there was some disorder near the school as the Negro students entered. But in the course of a few hours that evening the advisers around the President became panicky and ordered that federal troops be ordered to the scene. He agreed and issued a proclamation threatening the use of federal forces, and they took charge the next morning even though the violence had subsided and before the local populace or police had been given an opportunity to show compliance with the warning proclamation. Was this "impulsive"?

It was under another Democratic President, John F. Kennedy, in April 1961, that Cuban exiles undertook an invasion of their homeland. The United States government had worked with the exiled Cubans for several months to plan and implement the operation and to give clandestine help. Air support was expected as a natural military maneuver essential to the success of the project. American naval forces were standing by when the Cuban exiles landed at the Bay of Pigs. But the President's advisers—including Adlai Stevenson, American ambassador to the United Nations—had persuaded Mr. Kennedy to cancel an airstrike by the Cuban exiles designed to knock out Castro's air force, and to forbid U. S. planes to be used at any time, since this might create an unfavorable impression in the United Nations.

It is reported that Mr. Kennedy later changed his mind again and told the Cubans they could make the airstrike and also agreed to allow U. S. planes to provide desperately needed air cover, but it was all too late.

The expedition failed, and thus the United States lost an opportunity to get rid of the Castro problem. Can the president's action in suddenly overriding his military advisers be called "impulsive"?

The next day, however, on a television appearance, he said things which indicated that he was not in the race for the Presidential nomination. Was this "impulsive," or does the word better describe the action of Mr. Scranton five days later in reversing himself and becoming an active candidate?

Former Ambassador Lodge said this week that a President must not only refrain from "Impulsiveness," but must be "Prudent." There comes to mind the action of Senator Goldwater who had for several months known that an emotional wave of public opinion was pushing the "Civil Rights" bill to passage by Congress. But Mr. Goldwater carefully studied past decisions of the Supreme Court and concluded that the measure as drawn was in violation of the Constitution, which, as a senator, he has taken an oath to support. So he decided to vote against the bill.

Certainly it cannot be charged that Mr. Goldwater was "Impulsive," but may it be said that he was "Imprudent" by his vote? ## Life Insurance Queries, Answers

As a public service in cooperation with the Eastern New York Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the following questions and answers on life insurance are presented:

QUESTION — Why all the concern about retirement income? With the majority of families owning homes, having large amounts of insurance, etc. — doesn't it seem evident that most of us will have ample income when we reach 65?

ANSWER — In this country, we are dedicated to establishing our own individual family financial security. We have Social Security as a guarantee against falling below a sustenance level, regardless of what happens, but we must establish for ourselves whatever we are going to have beyond that. And few would want to live on Social Security benefits only. The majority of our families do own homes and do have not only life insurance, but many also have a retirement income plan through shop or office. But in spite of this widespread "wealth," a recent survey showed that, after nearly 25 of the most prosperous years in American history, 53% of all persons 65 and over have annual income of less than $1,000 a year—76% have annual income of less than $2,000 a year. Family groups, with the head of the family 65 or over, showed a better level of income — 31% having less than $2,000 annually — primarily because of the family responsibilities forced a large share of them to remain at work at an income level near average. These figures would indicate a great need for greater appreciation of the urgency to establish a program of guaranteed, prepaid retirement income, starting to buy this as early in life as possible.

Commission Lists Drainage Basin Classifications

Official classifications for the drainage basins of streams entering the Hudson River in Albany, Columbia, Dutchess and Greene counties have been established by the Water Resources Commission, Harold G. Wilm, chairman of the commission announced today.

Seven different classes are assigned to fresh waters. These classes are based on different uses of the water, and standards are set to insure water quality at the classification level established.

Public hearings to classify these drainage basins were held April, and June, 1963, in Albany. Before the hearings, the waters of the basins were surveyed by State Health Department engineers. Their report was sent to each affected municipality and industry in the basins.

Copies of the official classifications for the basins have been sent to all persons who attended the hearings and to others who may be affected by the classifications. Copies also may be obtained from the State Health Department on request, or from any of the following local Health Department offices: Albany, Columbia, Dutchess, Rensselaer, Schoharie and Ulster counties. ## Khrushchev Tour Of Scandinavia Called Fruitless

By RONALD THOMSON

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's 18-day visit to Scandinavia promises to be remembered as a journey into pointlessness.

Apart from some agreements to expand trade, Khrushchev's tour has produced no practical results of importance either politically or commercially. It is almost as if neither the Soviets nor the Scandinavians really see much use in trying to get on closer terms.

Khrushchev—mostly buoyant and high spirited but occasionally sour and sarcastic—at times has gone out of his way to scorn Scandinavian achievements and philosophies.

He upset the Danes by saying their farming methods were too small-scale to hold any lessons for the massive Soviet collectives. Denmark's Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag was miffed by a Khrushchev dig at his "capitalist state" during an informal television program.

In Sweden, Khrushchev also wrote off a typical farm as "too small" and he flustered Premier Tage Erlander in an astonishing, half-serious, half-jocular luncheon speech.

He demanded to know whether Erlander planned to join anti-Communist Ukrainian exiles in an attack on the Soviet Union. Khrushchev was angry because during his five-day stay one Ukrainian exile leader went to Sweden and laid a wreath at a statue of King Charles XII who invaded Russia at the start of the 18th century.

"Khrushchev doesn't realize that we just don't bar people from a free country like Sweden unless they are criminals or something," one Swedish official said.

The visit, which ends Saturday, thus far has seemed to add no new dimensions to Soviet-Scandinavian relations. People have been curious to see the Soviet leader but there has been no enthusiasm.

Khrushchev's routes have not been published in advance for security reasons, which makes it difficult for crowds to assemble, but even when people did get a chance to gather near

Life Insurance Queries, Answers

As a public service in cooperation with the Eastern New York Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the following questions and answers on life insurance are presented:

QUESTION — Why all the concern about retirement income? With the majority of families owning homes, having large amounts of insurance, etc. — doesn't it seem evident that most of us will have ample income when we reach 65?

ANSWER — In this country, we are dedicated to establishing our own individual family financial security. We have Social Security as a guarantee against falling below a sustenance level, regardless of what happens, but we must establish for ourselves whatever we are going to have beyond that. And few would want to live on Social Security benefits only. The majority of our families do own homes and do have not only life insurance, but many also have a retirement income plan through shop or office. But in spite of this widespread "wealth," a recent survey showed that, after nearly 25 of the most prosperous years in American history, 53% of all persons 65 and over have annual income of less than $1,000 a year — 76% have annual income of less than $2,000 a year. Family groups, with the head of the family 65 or over, showed a better level of income — 31% having less than $2,000 annually — primarily because of the family responsibilities forced a large share of them to remain at work at an income level near average. These figures would indicate a great need for greater appreciation of the urgency to establish a program of guaranteed, prepaid retirement income, starting to buy this as early in life as possible.

Commission Lists Drainage Basin Classifications

Official classifications for the drainage basins of streams entering the Hudson River in Albany, Columbia, Dutchess and Greene counties have been established by the Water Resources Commission, Harold G. Wilm, chairman of the commission announced today.

Seven different classes are assigned to fresh waters. These classes are based on different uses of the water, and standards are set to insure water quality at the classification level established.

Public hearings to classify these drainage basins were held April, and June, 1963, in Albany. Before the hearings, the waters of the basins were surveyed by State Health Department engineers. Their report was sent to each affected municipality and industry in the basins.

Copies of the official classifications for all persons who attended the hearings and to others who may be affected by the classifications. Copies also may be obtained from the State Health Department on request, or from any of the following local Health Department offices: Albany, Columbia, Dutchess, Rensselaer, Schoharie and Ulster counties, the Albany and White Plains regional offices and the Johnstown and Oneonta district offices.

The Red Mass

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's capital is among the latest of a number of communities in which "The Red Mass" has become an annual tradition. More formally known as a Solemn Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, it is an invocation of divine assistance for those who make, plead, interpret or apply the law. A custom for centuries in Europe, it gets its traditional name from the red vestments worn.

Khrushchev Tour Of Scandinavia Called Fruitless

By RONALD THOMSON
OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's 18-day visit to Scandinavia promises to be remembered as a journey into pointlessness.

Apart from some agreements to expand trade, Khrushchev's tour has produced no practical results of importance either politically or commercially. It is almost as if neither the Soviets nor the Scandinavians really see much use in trying to get on closer terms.

Khrushchev—mostly buoyant and high spirited but occasionally sour and sarcastic—at times has gone out of his way to scorn Scandinavian achievements and philosophies.

He upset the Danes by saying their farming methods were too small-scale to hold any lessons for the massive Soviet collectives. Denmark's Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag was miffed by a Khrushchev dig at his "capitalist state" during an informal television program.

In Sweden, Khrushchev also wrote off a typical farm as "too small" and he flustered Premier Tage Erlander in an astonishing, half-serious, half-jocular luncheon speech.

He demanded to know whether Erlander planned to join anti-Communist Ukrainian exiles in an attack on the Soviet Union. Khrushchev was angry because during his five-day stay one Ukrainian exile leader went to Sweden and laid a wreath at a statue of King Charles XII who invaded Russia at the start of the 18th century.

"Khrushchev doesn't realize that we just don't harp people from a free country like Sweden unless they are criminals or something," one Swedish official said.

The visit, which ends Saturday, thus far has seemed to add no new dimensions to Soviet-Scandinavian relations. People have been curious to see the Soviet leader but there has been no enthusiasm.

Khrushchev's routes have not been published in advance for security reasons, which makes it difficult for crowds to assemble, but even when people did get a chance to gather near

Today is Wednesday, July 1, the 183rd day of 1964. There are 183 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, Col. Theodore Roosevelt's "Rough Rider" regiment of volunteer cavalry charged across open fields against entrenched Spanish forces on top of San Juan hill in Cuba. The Spaniards fled and Roosevelt and his men gazed at Santiago ahead.

On this date In 1863, the Battle of Gettysburg began.

In 1881, the American Red Cross was incorporated, with Clara Barton as president.

In 1942, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps reached Al Alamein.

In 1943, the pay-as-you-go income tax law went into effect. Ten years ago — Sen. William Knowland of California declared he would resign as Senate floor leader on the day Red China is voted membership in the United Nations.

Five years ago — The United States agreed to resume economic and technical aid to the United Arab Republic which was cut off during the 1956 Suez Canal crisis.

Hurricane Alert Issued by State Civil Defense

ALBANY — New York State Civil Defense Commission today issued a list of precautionary measures to be taken during the hurricane season months of July, August, September and October.

Lt. General M. J. Asensio announced that the 80 local Civil Defense directors in the state will be prepared to have their forces perform emergency duties, should a natural disaster strike. "When storm warnings go up," he said, "Civil Defense workers stand ready to work with the Red Cross and state and local agencies."

For Vacationists

Because the four hurricane months are also popular vacation months, the following safety measures apply particularly to vacationists and boat owners:

Follow storm warnings carefully. Tune in frequently on radio or TV before starting on a fishing trip or cruise.

Secure pleasure craft when official storm warnings are issued by the Weather Bureau.

Haul boats to safe locations upon receiving storm notices.

Give vessels at anchor plenty of slack in moorings to avoid swamping.

Add an extra anchor to secure boats.

Secure loose gear. Leave beaches or other spots which may be threatened by high tides.

Keep a sharp eye out for high water in places where streams may flood from heavy rains.

For the Householder

Make sure that portable battery radios are in good working order.

Stay tuned to radio and TV stations for storm warnings.

Use battery radio set or car radio in event of power failure.

Keep your car in top condition with battery, lights, in good working order and with the gas tank at least three-quarters full.

As a safeguard against damage from flooded cellars, check cellar windows and move valuable material to a safe place.

Store canned goods, drinking water, canned heat, can openers, and paper dishes in a safe place.

Check gutters to be sure they are not clogged.

Move furniture and other movable objects on porches and lawns to safe spots.

Pre-storm Precautions

When the storm warning is given, these precautions must be taken at once:

Board up windows or leave storm shutters in place.

Use strong lumber for all bracing.

Sterilize the bath tub, jugs, bottles, and fill with drinking water.

Put car in garage or park away from trees and poles.

Close house and garage windows and doors.

At the first warnings of danger, turn freezer setting up so that, if power fails, food may stay frozen for a longer period. Stay away from windows during the storm.

If out-of-doors, take refuge in a ditch or ravine.

Avoid all loose wires — they may be live.

If the center, or "eye," of the storm passes over your area, there will be a temporary lull, lasting from a few minutes to a half-hour or more. Then the wind will resume with comparable violence from the opposite direction. You should not, therefore, leave your protected area until you hear an official announcement on radio or TV that the storm is over.

Toll-Free Telephone Service Is Approved

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today approved extension of toll-free telephone service in the Silver Creek, Dunkirk, Forestville and Fredonia areas, beginning Oct. 21.

The New York Telephone Co. estimated that the increase in basic rates to subscribers, totaling $23,100 annually, will be more than offset by the elimination of 10 and 15-cent toll charges, which now yield $40,100.

The Dunkirk and Fredonia Telephone Co. estimated that its Fredonia subscribers would save about $3,360 a year.

Honor for Secretaries

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — July 17 is Secretaries of State Week in New York State, by proclamation of Gov. Rockefeller.

The governor made the designation Tuesday in honor of the National Association of Secretaries of State, which opens its annual convention in New York City today.

The governor said the association has as its aim "the constant improvement of public administration."

Chairman Is Named For Water Sanitation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Barton Holl of Logan, Ohio, takes over today for a one-year term as chairman of the eight-state Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

Holl, president of the Ohio State Chamber of Commerce, succeeds Joseph R. Shaw of New York, who has been vice chairman of the commission. The pact under which the commission was formed covers the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia. Its aims are to end pollution of the Ohio River and its tributaries.

All Born June 28

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. James DeMarco won't have any trouble remembering the birthdays of three of their children — all were born June 28.

Mrs. DeMarco gave birth to Jill Marie on Sunday as Joseph turned five and Judi became a year old. The couple has two other children, Joanne, who will be four on the Fourth of July, and John, who celebrates his third birthday Aug. 4.

Kinderhook Site Donated to Group Will Be Restored

The historic Van Alen house at Kinderhook, Columbia County, has been donated by William Van Alen of Philadelphia, Pa., to the Columbia County Historical Society, together with 38 acres of land. Actual restoration of the historical residence will begin later this summer.

The donation of Mr. Van Alen includes $500 to begin the restoration. Mrs. Louis Brugiere of Newport, R. I., mother of Mr. Van Alen, has donated $20,000 toward the restoration which it is estimated will cost $48,000. Paul Patchin of Kinderhook has been named chairman of a building committee and Allen J. Thomas Jr., also of Kinderhook, has been named finance chairman to raise necessary funds for restoration of the historic old house.

Bus Trip to Fair

The Kingston Hospital is sponsoring a bus trip to the World's Fair, Saturday, July 18. Employees, relatives and friends may participate. Mrs. Doris Strubel of the admitting office may be contacted for reservations.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Perhaps to some it seems strange that there was a Kingston back in 1844, some 120 years ago, but there was. I have proof of it before me, in an Ulster Republican May 22nd, 1844 newspaper. For instance, those now working on the Ulster County Fair may be interested in the following: "At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society of Ulster County, held at the house of Irwin Pardee in the village of Kingston on the 14th day of May, 1844: On motion, it was ordered, that the next annual Fair of the Agricultural Society of Ulster County, to be held on Friday, the 11th day of October next, at 10 a. m., at the house of Isaac D. Perrine, Stone Ridge, in the town of Marbletown. They also give a long list of premiums, payable one week after they are awarded the competitors.

Some of the first prizes were, for best bull over 3 years old, $5. For a stallion over 2 years old, owned and kept in the county, $8. For a boar, $3. A best fattened sheep received $2. Prizes were given for farming implements manufactured in the county, such as: plough, $3; drill barrow, $1. Threshing machine and power $5; fanning mill, $3 and for straw cutter $2. On crops, for two acres of best wheat $10. For a pair of butter, not less than 10 lbs. $3. For best 10 lbs. of maple sugar, $3. They also gave prizes for farms, such as "cultivated farm over 100 acres, $10 etc. There were four prizes in this section. There was also a home and manufacture section. Prizes were given for set of harness, lumber wagon, 6 chairs, domestic linen, 10 yards of carpeting etc.

In this May 22nd, 1844 Ulster Republican there is a list of picked jurors, most names still well known in these sections. There was William L. Merritt, of Marbletown, Moses I. Schoonmaker of Rochester, Jacob M. Dubois of New Paltz, Thomas Wygant, of Marbletown, Peter Gallagher of Kingston, Rodney John H. Schryver was Sheriff of the Ulster County, just was dated, Kingston, May 20th, 1844.

In the death notices I see, from Esopus, William Teerpening, a soldier of the Revolution, age 93 years, and I notice he spells his name different, with two e's. There were many advertisements in this newspaper, and some from New York City, so I take it, Kingston was known as a prosperous village on the Hudson river route. Lawyers and dentists advertised in 1844. Like William C. North, himself in Kingston. Office at his residence in Fair Street, adjoining the Methodist Episcopal Church, or "Charles J. Ruggles, attorney at law, and solicitor in chancery, Poughkeepsie, Dutchess Co. Office at the rooms of the Circuit Judge, No. 51 Market St. Any business entrusted to him by the citizens of Ulster, will be punctually and faithfully attended to." Herman M. Romeyn and Jacob H. DuBois were also attorneys and solicitors with offices in the village of Kingston, Ulster Co., N. Y. A number of New York hotels also had their items in the Village of Kingston paper. The "Cheapest store in New York City" at 188 Greenwich Street, N. Y. run by John C. Morrison, had a long list of items they sold, from drugs to groceries, paints, etc., just like in 1964.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Barton Holl of Logan, Ohio, takes over today for a one-year term as chairman of the eight-state Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

Holl, president of the Ohio State Chamber of Commerce, succeeds Joseph R. Shaw of New York, who has been vice chairman of the commission.

The pact under which the commission was formed covers the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia. Its aims are to end pollution of the Ohio River and its tributaries.

All Born June 23

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. James DeMarco won't have any trouble remembering the birthdays of three of their children — all were born June 23.

Kinderhook Site Donated to Group Will Be Restored

The historic Van Alen house at Kinderhook, Columbia County, has been donated by William Van Alen of Philadelphia, Pa., to the Columbia County Historical Society together with 38 acres of land. Actual restoration of the historical residence will begin later this summer.

The donation of Mr. Van Alen includes $500 to begin the restoration. Mrs. Louis Brugiere of Newport, R. I., mother of Mr. Van Alen, has donated $20,000 toward the restoration which it is estimated will cost $48,000. Paul Patchin of Kinderhook has been named chairman of a building committee and Allen J. Thomas Jr., also of Kinderhook, has been named finance chairman to raise necessary funds for restoration of the historic old house.

Bus Trip to Fair

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Perhaps to some it seems strange that there was a Kingston back in 1844, some 120 years ago, but there was. I have proof of it before me, in an Ulster Republican May 22nd, 1844 newspaper. For instance, those now working on the Ulster County Fair may be interested in the following: "At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society of Ulster County, held at the house of Irwin Pardee in the village of Kingston on the 14th day of May, 1844: On motion, it was ordered, that the next annual Fair of the Agricultural Society of Ulster County, to be held on Friday, the 11th day of October next, at 10 a. m., at the house of Isaac D. Perrine, Stone Ridge, in the town of Marlborough. They also give a long list of premiums, payable one week after they are awarded the competitors.

Some of the first prizes were, for best bull over 3 years old, $5. For a stallion over 2 years old, owned and kept in the county, $8. For a boar, $3. A best fatted sheep received $2. Prizes were given for farming implements manufactured in the county, such as: plough, $3; drill barrow, $1. Threshing machine and power $5; fanning mill, $3 and for straw cutter $2. On crops, for two acres of best wheat $10. For a pair of butter, not less than 10 lbs. $3. For best 10 lbs. of maple sugar, $3. They also gave prizes for farms, such as "cultivated farm over 100 acres, $10, etc. There were four prizes in this section. There was also a home and manufacture section. Prizes were given for set of harness, lumber wagon, 6 chairs, domestic linen, 10 yards of carpeting etc.

In this May 22nd, 1844 Ulster Republican there is a list of picked jurors, most names still well known in these sections. There was William L. Merritt, of Marlborough, Moses I. Schoonmaker of Rochester, Jacob M. Dubois of New Paltz, Thomas Wygant, of Marlborough, Peter Gallagher of Kingston, Redney H. Schryver was Sheriff of the Linc. and was dated, Kingston, May 20th, 1844.

In the death notices I see, from Esopus, William Teerpeng, a soldier of the Revolution, age 93 years, and I notice he spells his name different, with two e's. There were many advertisements in this newspaper, and some from New York City, so I take it, Kingston was known as a prosperous village on the Hudson river route. Lawyers and dentists advertised in 1844. Like "William C. North, himself in Kingston. Office at his residence in Fair Street, adjoining the Methodist Episcopal Church," or "Charles J. Ruggles, attorney at law, and solicitor in chancery, Poughkeepsie, Dutchess Co. Office at the rooms of the Circuit Judge, No. 51 Market St. Any business entrusted to him by the citizens of Ulster, will be punctually and faithfully attended to." Herman M. Romeyn and Jacob H. DuBois were also attorneys and solicitors with offices in the village of Kingston, Ulster Co., N. Y. A number of New York hotels also had their items in the Village of Kingston paper. The "Cheapest store in New York City" at 188 Greenwich Street, N. Y. run by John C. Morrison, had a long list of items they sold, from drugs to groceries, paints, etc., just like in 1964.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to The Editor must bear the name of the writer and communications must be limited to 300 words free of label and personal attacks upon individuals as such. Only original communications addressed to The Freeman will be printed.

June 25, 1964
Kingston, N. Y.
Editor, The Freeman:

Sir, I don't really know if this will concern your paper or not, but I am certain the citizens and the community officials of this city in particular will have an opportunity to read this letter in your paper.

On Tuesday of June 23, 1964, I took my children to the Academy Green Park for wading in the pool. This was in the afternoon at 3 p. m. I am stating the specific time so as parents whose children were there in the afternoon will know I am referring to them.

There were about 25 children present, some of whom were seven and eight years of age who were responsible for younger sisters and brothers some not yet two years old. One little girl in particular about 18 months was being knocked over and crying pitifully, probably due to the fact that she was so cold, her little face was purple around her nose and mouth. An older sister (eight years old) went in and brought her out. She gave her a bottle of milk, then with two younger sisters, six and five preceded to walk

Presenting Air Show

Kobelt Airport, Wallkill will present Air Show USA Sunday with the precision aerobatics of such performers as Lindsay Parsons, Bob Trauger, Ed Mahler and Bryan Osgood.

home without towels or other clothes to cover their cold wet bodies and the little one continuing to cry with her bottle in her mouth and tagging along with her sisters.

Just what do parents think of today—when their young children are neglected? Children are sent off to the parks for the day with their sandwiches and with babies in their care—Parents may think that they don't have to answer to anyone but in time they will have to answer to their Heavenly Father for the neglect of their responsibilities for the scriptures state this quotation: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Some parents are confused; at times they seem to think that they are the children and the children are the parents. Why burden a child in his or her childhood—they need good memories of their childhood, not regrets.

I believe the officials of the Board of Public Parks and Recreation, along with City Council should put into effect some sort of ruling which prohibits any child under six years of age from entering any public park for playing or swimming privileges, without proper supervision of an adult or teenaged relative or friend. In California the state law is that no child under fourteen years old may swim in a public pool without an adult. I do hope something can be done by the leaders of this community to overcome this situation.

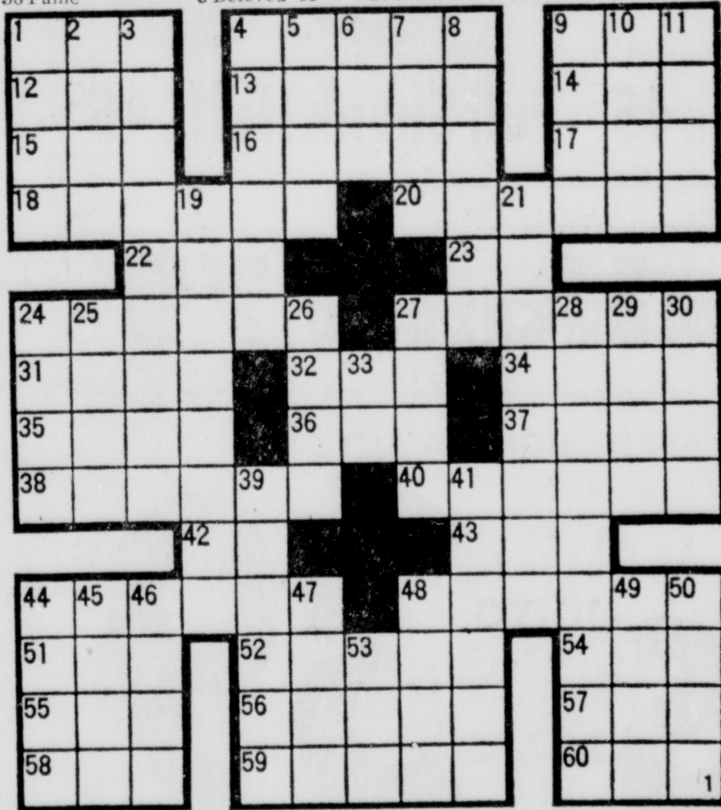

Respectfully,
MRS. LONITA WEBSTER

Review Sought Of Federal Aid, Grant Programs

WEST POINT—The immediate adoption by the House of Representatives of a bill to provide for the periodical review of federal grant-in-aid programs was urged by the Eastern States Taxpayers Conference at their annual meeting at West Point.

The conference is composed of taxpayer organizations from 11 Eastern States including the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. of New York State. The review bill recently passed by the Senate was hailed by the taxpayer groups as a step toward effective control of unchecked federal spending.

It was pointed out at the conference that federal grant programs have grown from $5 billion in 1952 to $10 billion today—nearly 10 per cent of all federal spending, and that once these programs are adopted, "they just never end whether they are needed or not."

The survey added that it was the growth of such federal programs that costs New York taxpayers $1.60 in federal taxes for every $1 returned by the federal government in the form of aid.

Olives are graded in as many as 13 different sizes, from Large through Giants, Jumbos, Colossals and Supercolossals. The really big ones are called super Supremes.

Asks for Three-State War Against Moths

POWELL, Vt. (AP)—A three-state war on gypsy moth caterpillars now defoliating large sections of woodland was asked Tuesday by selectmen of Powell.

They will seek a meeting soon with officials from North Adams, Williamstown and Clarksburg in Massachusetts; Stamford, Vt., and Petersburg, N.Y.

The damage from the caterpillars now spreads from Florida, Mass., atop the Hoosic mountain range, to the foothills of the Green Mountains and on to the Taconic range along the New York border.

England's most fashionable drink is now in America— new Schweppes BITTER LEMON

COMMANDER WHITEHEAD

The girl above is beating the drum for new Schweppes Bitter Lemon.

She discovered it on a visit to London. And she's been spreading the word in America ever since.

You can see that she's just made two new converts.

What is Bitter Lemon? The latest invention of the House of Schweppes in London. All the rage everywhere in England. And suddenly the thing to drink in America, too.

Small wonder. You can mix Schweppes Bitter Lemon with almost everything—gin, vodka, rum, whiskey, you name it.

And it's just as good straight. Schweppes Bitter Lemon is an adult soft drink. Tart and sophisticated.

(English nannies say that it's the one soft drink children don't like.) All the more for you.

If you discovered new Schweppes Bitter Lemon abroad and have been pining for it ever since, weep no more. It's at your store today.

P.S. "To get the real thing," says Commander Whitehead, "make sure the label on every bottle reads Schweppes Bitter Lemon."

Convenient way to buy Schweppes: In no deposit, no return bottles. So compact!

Schweppes inimitable flavor is protected, naturally, by glass.

Dear Abby . . .

He Ain't Happy!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My very lovely sister-in-law is an art student, and she has just entered her broad brush syndrome. Her oils resemble an explosion in a paint factory. She is now doing a portrait of my wife, and we both agree that it is an atrocity. When it is finished, must I hang it in the living room and suffer an aesthetic jolt every time I set eyes on it? Or should I risk a family donnybrook and send it to the attic, where it clearly belongs?

DEAR APPALLED: Prop it up somewhere downstairs for a reasonable length of time, then banish it to the attic. If the artist complains, tell her you couldn't bear to hang your wife in the living room.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who worries himself half-sick over what to buy his mother for Mother's Day, and then turns around and says to his wife, "Don't buy anything for Father's Day because I am not buying you anything for Mother's Day."

DEAR BOILING: Your husband apparently feels that his mother eagerly anticipates a Mother's Day gift, and would avoid disappointing her—even though he disapproves of the idea generally. If you think he is discriminating, and it bugs you, tell him! Or would you rather just go on "boiling"?

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I give a party, our invitations are "RSVP," which everyone knows requires an answer. We have about six or seven couples with whom we are quite friendly. Some of them assume that just because we are so close they need not respond. We are just supposed to "know" that they will be there. Abby, I am so tired of having to call up half a dozen invited guests the night of my party to find out whether they are coming or not. We had the same problem when our daughter was married last summer. About a dozen of our relatives felt so "close" that they didn't think it was necessary to let us know that they were coming. Please state in your column the legitimate reasons one may use for ignoring an "RSVP".

DEAR READY: As far as I know, there is no "legitimate" reason to ignore an RSVP. Even in illness, one can always have a telephone call made, expressing regrets.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago, when our teenage son was unable to find summer work, we let him paint our house rather than contracting the job to regular painters. We made arrangements with a neighborhood paint store not only to supply the materials but also to provide him with instructions and periodic inspections and corrections. The results were amazing! In addition to spending a useful summer, our son earned money, and his paint job was first-class. So this is our suggestion for keeping a teen-ager busy and happy during the summer vacation.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Jean Rue rules his realm with a soft voice and a wooden spoon. He is the chef of the Musso and Frank Grill, the oldest and still the best restaurant on the boulevard.

In gentle gallic tones M. Rue wheedles from tradesmen the most qualitative of provender for his kitchen. With his spoon he tastes the concoctions of his assistant chefs, bestowing a nod and a few French words of commendation.

Rue has lived in the aromatic world of Musso and Frank's for 42 years. When he first came to the restaurant, Hollywood was a village with unpaved side streets. The growing movie society was centered on the boulevard.

"They all used to come here," the chef recalled. "Rudolph Valentino was a regular customer; he loved the Italian spaghetti. Charlie Chaplin had lunch here almost every day; his favorite was the oblong lamb with caper sauce. There were many others — Douglas Fairbanks, Bebe Daniels, Alan Hale. I remember when Hale first brought in his little boy — the boy who is an actor today."

Hollywood grew, and restaurants proliferated. The movie crowd moved to Beverly Hills and the San Fernando Valley. But Musso and Frank's continued. While the younger set prefers flashier places, the boulevard landmark is still a favorite with film veterans, and especially with writers, press agents and advertising men.

Musso and Frank's was only three years old when Jean Rue arrived in February 1922. The founders have long since passed from the scene but Rue continues his guardianship of the kitchen.

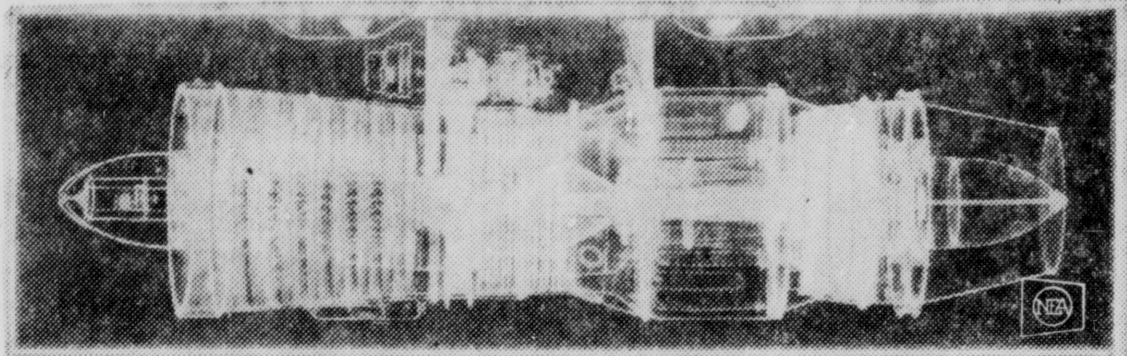

A native of Limoges, France, Rue served two years of apprenticeship in the old country before graduating to Maxime's and La Rue. After cooking on the French Line, he landed in New York, then the Ambassador Hotel here.

A malish man of 66 years, he has a brush mustache and a lean figure despite a lifetime of intimacy with food.

Nothing much riles M. Rue, but he does express dismay over the way Americans eat. "The gourmet has almost disappeared," he lamented. "Americans are too much in a hurry. In Europe the people spend one hour, two hours, even three hours over the midday meal. They know how to enjoy food."

In 1894 the German explorer Count G. A. von Gotzen was so impressed with the dancing Watusis that he claimed Rwanda and Urundi as part of the German colony of Tanganyika.

WORLD'S LARGEST X-RAY—Run-of-the-mill X-rays are usually taken of chests, bones and other parts of the body. But the Eastman Kodak people have done something different. They've X-rayed a full-size Pratt & Whitney jet engine. The 15x6-foot radiograph was made by a high-voltage X-ray machine passing its beam through the jet engine onto strips of film, supported by plywood panels backed by lead shields. Objective of the big photo is to show the working parts of the engine. Both the X-ray and engine are on exhibit at the Kodak Pavilion of the New York World's Fair.

Stratton Certain Of Half of State

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Aides of Rep. Samuel S. Stratton say the Amsterdam congressman now has the support of Democratic leaders in 29 of the state's 62 counties in his undeclared candidacy for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

The Stratton camp made that claim Tuesday after chairmen in four more counties—Broome, Chemung, Tioga and Tompkins—endorsed him to oppose incumbent Republican Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester. The four counties comprise the 33rd congressional district.

Stratton represents the 35th district. The announcement of fresh support came from Thomas J. Conlon, the Broome County chairman.

Stratton has declared himself available as a candidate for the Senate but has not said he is actively seeking the nomination.

The declared candidates for the nomination are:

Paul O'Dwyer, New York City councilman-at-large and brother of the city's former Mayor William O'Dwyer; Anthony Akers, former ambassador to New Zealand, and Louis Nizer, New York City attorney.

Keep a cedar closet as air tight as possible. Close the door securely after storing or removing articles.

UNDER ONE ROOF—A first in concept and design, the Macy's store in Queens is a revolutionary structure that combines parking and shopping under one roof. Shopping areas are located in the core of the circular structure with curbside parking for 1,500 cars in an unusual wing adjacent to the building's three stories and on the roof. Customers will not be much further than 75 feet walking distance for any given department in which they choose to shop. An electronic computer will direct customers to vacant parking places.

Expires on Beach

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (AP)—Donald Cronbach, 34, of Rochester, died on the municipal beach here Tuesday night after he was pulled from the water by four youths who heard his cries for help.

Police said Cronbach was swimming alone at the beach in this Adirondack community when he began to flounder and slipped beneath the water.

A coroner's physician said death was accidental due to drowning.

Dies of Injuries

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Alfred G. Elley, 37, of Pittsford, died Tuesday in a hospital here of injuries suffered in a two-car collision last Wednesday in nearby Brighton.

Put Off Decision On Seaway Tolls

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada and the United States have decided to wait until July 1, 1966, to determine whether there should be any change in tolls levied on ships and cargoes using the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two countries agreed Tuesday to postpone the decision whether tolls should be raised, lowered or left unchanged to meet the 50-year program for paying off the $475-million cost of constructing the waterway.

Privy Council President George Meirath told the Commons Tuesday that tolls would remain the same while the toll level is reviewed.

Stratton Certain Of Half of State

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Aides of Rep. Samuel S. Stratton say the Amsterdam congressman now has the support of Democratic leaders in 29 of the state's 62 counties in his undeclared candidacy for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

The Stratton camp made that claim Tuesday after chairmen in four more counties—Broome, Chemung, Tioga and Tompkins—endorsed him to oppose incumbent Republican Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester. The four counties comprise the 33rd congressional district.

Stratton represents the 35th district. The announcement of fresh

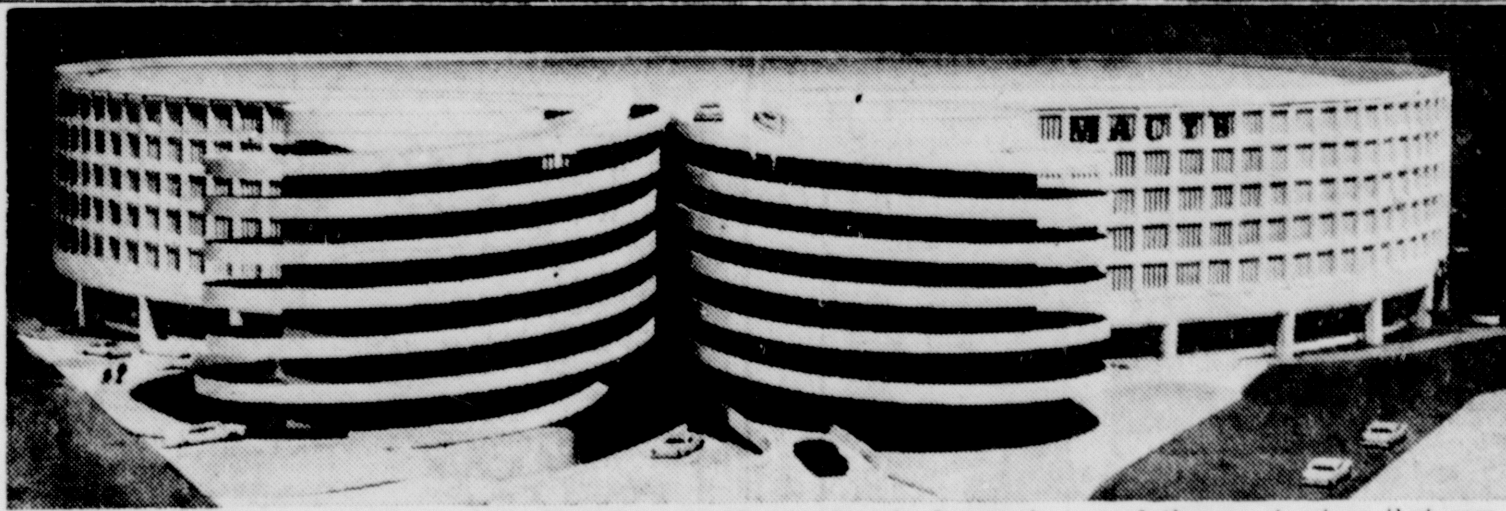

support came from Thomas J. Conlon, the Broome County chairman.

Stratton has declared himself available as a candidate for the Senate but has not said he is actively seeking the nomination.

The declared candidates for the nomination are:

Paul O'Dwyer, New York City councilman-at-large and brother of the city's former Mayor William O'Dwyer; Anthony Akers, former ambassador to New Zealand, and Louis Nizer, New York City attorney.

Keep a cedar closet as air tight as possible. Close the door securely after storing or removing articles.

UNDER ONE ROOF—A first in concept and design, the Macy's store in Queens is a revolutionary structure that combines parking and shopping under one roof. Shopping areas are located in the core of the circular structure with curbside parking for 1,500 cars in an unusual wing adjacent to the building's three stories and on the roof. Customers will not be much further than 75 feet walking distance for any given department in which they choose to shop. An electronic computer will direct customers to vacant parking places.

Expires on Beach

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (AP)—Donald Cronbach, 34, of Rochester, died on the municipal beach here Tuesday night after he was pulled from the water by four youths who heard his cries for help.

Police said Cronbach was swimming alone at the beach in this Adirondack community when he began to flounder and slipped beneath the water. A coroner's physician said death was accidental due to drowning.

Dies of Injuries

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Alfred G. Elley, 37, of Pittsford, died Tuesday in a hospital here of injuries suffered in a two-car collision last Wednesday in nearby Brighton.

Put Off Decision On Seaway Tolls

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada and the United States have decided to wait until July 1, 1966, to determine whether there should be any change in tolls levied on ships and cargoes using the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two countries agreed Tuesday to postpone the decision whether tolls should be raised, lowered or left unchanged to meet the 50-year program for paying off the $475-million cost of constructing the waterway.

Privy Council President George Meilraith told the Commons Tuesday that tolls would remain the same while the toll level is reviewed.

Adult Classes to Be Continued by Guild

Though the Onteora School District will not be able to support classes in adult education this summer, because the citizens voted down the budget proposed by the Board of Education, The Guild of Craftsmen feels that adult education is too crucial to drop, and will continue the classes in enameled jewelry taught by two Guild members. The enameled class, taught by Joan Pond, will open Tuesday, July 7, at 1 p. m.; the jewelry class, taught by Olga Van Kirk, Wednesday, July 8, at 1 p. m. Those interested may register at the Guild.

Lecture-Recital On Two Slavonic Bridges Reviewed

It is a great treat in itself to visit wonderful Woodstock on a day when the deep blue sky adds still more attraction to the colorful and artistic community. The challenge to join a travel party across "Two Slavonic Bridges" led by H. A. Schimmerling whose lecture-recitals I heard before was so great that I decided to make this 240 mile round trip from Westchester County in order to attend this promising event. And I am glad to say I was not disappointed.

Schimmerling's lecture-recitals are the reflection of his personality. He guided us through Bohemia, through Moravia and Slovakia to the border of the USSR; and then again from the Austro-Yugoslavian border through Slovenia, Croatia, Bosnia, Serbia, Montenegro, and Macedonia to the Greek border. He explained in a clear scientific, yet quite popular way the influences on folk music of these territories by foreign dominating powers and neighboring infiltrations. Every sentence revealed convincing knowledge whether it was in the field of musicology, history or whether he dealt with ethnological or linguistic issues. His piano accompaniments proved keyboard expertise and the nonchalant, freely improvised speeches, spiced with humorous remarks and gestures—Victor Borge style—captivated the audience from the start to the end. There was not one dull moment.

Schimmerling's folksong arrangements were performed by the most capable June Pauker of Kingston. I myself, being of Slavic origin, know how to appreciate her performance of some of the most intricate rhythmic specimens, or the in-between-pitch chanting in these south-eastern oriental songs. Her dramatic gestures and admirably fine diction of five different Slavic languages are not only proof of her fine musicianship, but even more of her profound knowledge and understanding of the characteristic details of the song. A rare and interesting program like the "Two Slavonic Bridges" can be given only by performers who have the qualities of Hanus Schimmerling and June Pauker. Congratulations to "Performing Arts of Woodstock." Kathe Bednarik.

Editor's Note: Kathe Bednarik was born and educated in Czechoslovakia. After her graduation from college in Prague she lived for some time in Yugoslavia, Austria and France. During World War II she came to London where she became secretary to the late Jan Masaryk, then one of the leaders of the Czechoslovak Government in exile during the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia. Kathe Bednarik who speaks five languages fluently is married to Dr. Mojmir Bednarik, a graduate from Masaryk University in Brno (Moravia). He is professor of economics and political sciences and lectures at universities and colleges in the USA and Canada. The Bednariks became American citizens. Lately they retired to their own estate in Westchester County. They love the Catskills and admire the cultural atmosphere of Woodstock which they visit from time to time.

Two Women Hurt In 9W Mishap

Two women were injured and one was cited for a traffic violation as the result of a two-car collision which occurred at 10:45 p. m. Tuesday on Route 9W at the entrance to Ferraro's Bowlerama, Town of Ulster.

Kingston Trooper Robert Mackey said Louise Dietz, 52 of P.O. Box 14, Bloomington, was pulling out of the bowlerama lot to go south on Route 9W and Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, 19, of 12 Lincoln Street, city, was traveling south when the vehicles collided.

Both women were taken to Benedictine Hospital. They sustained bruises and possible head injuries, according to a report of Trooper Kilfoyle. The Bloomington driver was cited for failing to yield the right of way. Trooper Mackey said.

There was not one dull moment. Schimmerling's folksong arrangements were performed by the most capable June Pauker of Kingston. I myself, being of Slavic origin, know how to appreciate her performance of some of the most intricate rhythmic specimens, or the in-between-pitch chanting in these south-eastern oriental songs. Her dramatic gestures and admirably fine diction of five different Slavic languages are not only proof of her fine musicianship, but even more of her profound knowledge and understanding of the characteristic details of the song. A rare and interesting program like the "Two Slavonic Bridges" can be given only by performers who have the qualities of Hans Schimmerling and June Pauker. Congratulations to "Performing Arts of Woodstock." Kathe Bednarik.

Editor's Note: Kathe Bednarik was born and educated in Czechoslovakia. After her graduation from college in Prague she lived for some time in Yugoslavia, Austria and France. During World War II she came to London where she became secretary to the late Jan Masaryk, then one of the leaders of the Czechoslovak Government in exile during the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia. Kathe Bednarik who speaks five languages fluently is married to Dr. Mojmir Bednarik, a graduate from Masaryk University in Brno (Moravia). He is professor of economics and political sciences and lectures at universities and colleges in the USA and Canada. The Bednariks became American citizens. Lately they retired to their own estate in Westchester County. They love the Catskills and admire the cultural atmosphere of Woodstock which they visit from time to time.

Victory on Early Ballot Expected for Goldwater

By CHARLES J. WHALEN
CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's smashing success with the Illinois delegation prompted his backers today to renew predictions of an early ballot victory for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater was jubilant after winning 48 of the 58 Illinois delegates to the Republican National Convention while Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton failed to pick up a single vote.

"This is the biggest boost for Goldwater's campaign since the California primary," said Hayes Robertson, a staunch Goldwater delegate and former Cook County GOP chairman.

See National Impact
Robertson and other Goldwater supporters said the strong Illinois vote for the Arizona senator would have national impact and "should result in an easy first-ballot victory" for him.

The poll of delegates was taken after Goldwater and Scranton made separate appearances before the group at closed-door sessions Tuesday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who had been uncommitted, started the momentum for Goldwater by casting the first vote for him.

Before the meeting, Goldwater's Illinois strength had been listed at 39 votes in surveys by The Associated Press.

The 10 delegates who did not support Goldwater in Tuesday's session declined to back any candidate.

Just to Arouse Public

Scranton, although obviously disappointed, contended his poor showing did not deal a fatal blow to his candidacy. He said his decision to address the Illinois delegation was intended to "arouse the public" and not to gain delegates at this time.

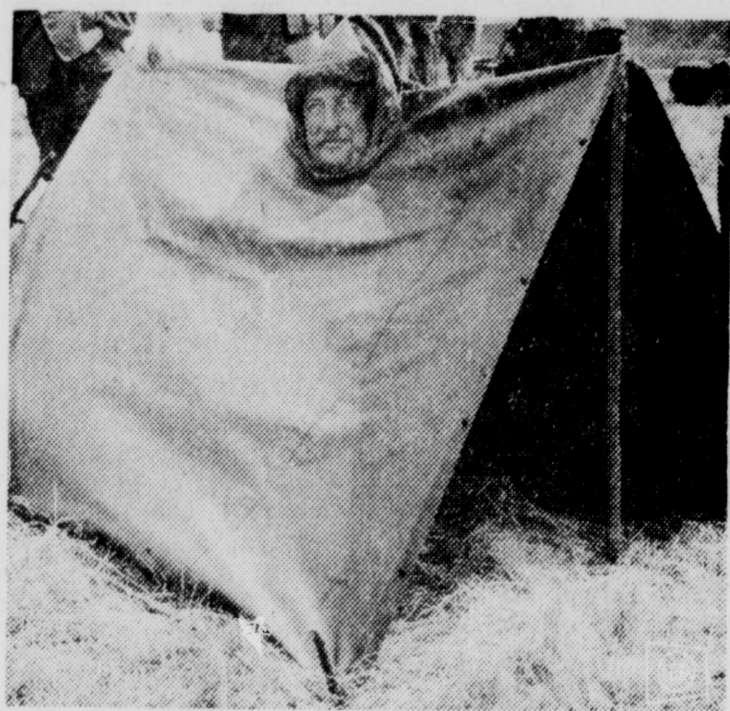

He said the overwhelming Goldwater support in the Illinois delegation "did not surprise me or shock me."

Goldwater, although elated over the outcome, would not claim the nomination was wrapped up.

Goldwater said he thought he has "maybe 690" delegates, or 35 more than required for the nomination, but added he would like a bigger insurance margin.

An Associated Press survey showed Tuesday that Goldwater now has 705 committed, instructed, pledged or favorable delegates, which is 50 more than needed for the nomination.

If none of the delegates stray, Goldwater's closest pursuer, the survey showed, is Scranton with 141 delegates.

McKeon Presses for Convention on Redistricting

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon and the State Policy Committee of the Liberal Party urged enlargement of Gov. Rockefeller's planned advisory group on legislative redistricting.

The Liberal party committee also recommended Tuesday that a constitutional convention handle the job of reapportioning seats in the State Senate and Assembly, ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The committee urged that Rockefeller not take guidance on reapportionment from a special committee of five to seven members, such as he proposed Monday. The committee recommended "an expert, nonpartisan commission, including representatives of major political parties and independent voters."

A Real Switch

RENSSELAER, N. Y. (AP)—Here's a switch: The Rensselaer Board of Education adopted a 1964-65 school budget providing for a tax cut — despite the objections of some taxpayers who thought more money was needed for schools.

The Liberal party committee also asked that Rockefeller call the Republican - controlled Legislature into special session quickly to put the question of holding a constitutional convention on the ballot for the Nov. 3 election.

Only this procedure, the committee said, would assure equal representation in accord with "the spirit and substance" of the Supreme Court's recent ruling that legislative districts must be "substantially equal" population.

The Liberal party's position was announced by its executive director, Ben Davidson.

Senators Seek Additional Funds for Office Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republicans, have joined other big-state senators in seeking more money for office expenses.

The drive was initiated by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois who suggested changing the formula for dispensing the funds available to each senator to hire office help.

Senators from populous states contend the formula, although based on population, favors the small states and discriminates against senators from such states as New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

The millions of constituents in these areas write their senators thousands of letters they expect to be answered and ask help on hundreds of complicated problems from defense contracts to immigration matters.

Javits and Keating have pledged Dirksen their support in the drive. Both have dipped into their own pockets to help maintain their office staffs, and Javits has said he spends his entire Senate salary — $22,500 yearly—to supplement his government office allowance.

The New York senators spent about $95,000 in federal funds between them for office help during the first three months of this year.

The formula now used entitles each senator to a minimum yearly basic allowance of $32,980 for clerk hire.

But the $32,980 figure is not the actual amount available to a senator but only a starting point. It does not include the pay increases—and they vary according to the salary received—that Congress has allowed its employees since 1945.

Because of this a $32,980 basic allowance can total many times that amount in actual salaries. There is no limit on the number of employees a senator may hire provided he stays within his basic allowance. Javits and Keating employed a total of 82 persons during January, February and March.

The basic allowance is increased by $3,700 for each two million constituents in a senator's state. The allowance for states with three to five million persons, for example, is $55,980, and for states with five to seven million persons, $58,980. The last step is $76,980 for states with more than 17 million persons.

Real Knights See Club Convention

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Two English knights are among the 80 delegates attending the 37th annual International Convention of Variety Clubs.

Sir Billy Butlin was knighted by Queen Elizabeth about 10 days ago for developing nearly 50 holiday camps for vacationing Englishmen throughout the country.

The other, Sir Tom O'Brien, was knighted in 1956 for "services to Great Britain." He is an officer of the National Association of Theatrical and Cinema employees in England and has been a member of the House of Commons since 1949.

The convention, which opened Tuesday, attracted representatives from 36 tents in England, Ireland, Mexico, Canada and the United States.

London Tent 36 presented to Buffalo Tent 7 a "sunshine pool" for handicapped children. The pool, designed for children aged 1 to 10 and with heated water, is part of a complex that includes bath and personal facilities and exercise bars.

Apple and pineapple are surprisingly good flavor mates. Use them in a salad and find out.

Foresee Action On Seneca Bill After Convention

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees are expected to wait until after the Republican national convention before making any new attempt to resolve their differences over a Seneca Indian compensation bill.

This was reported today by Rep. James A. Haley, D-Fla., chairman of the House Interior Subcommittee which drafted one version of the measure — $20.15 million in rehabilitation and damage funds.

The Senate voted only $9,126,550 to compensate the Indians for loss of much of their Allegheny Reservation in Western New York in connection with construction of the Allegheny River Dam and reservoir. A special committee set up by the House and Senate to iron out differences in the bills has met four times thus far, twice last week.

Its main stumbling block is the size of the rehabilitation fund proposed for the Indians — the House wants $16,931,000 and the Senate $6,116,550.

Virtually all other differences in the bills have been settled, at least tentatively.

Dies From Avon Crash

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Maribel Rodgers, 62, of Rochester, died Tuesday night in Strong Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in the collision of three automobiles near Avon on June 14, which took the lives of four other persons.

The Republican convention begins July 13 and Congress is expected to reconvene the week of July 19.

The rehabilitation fund in the House bill would provide $8 million for a Williamsburg-type restoration of Iroquois Indian culture on the Seneca reservation, $4,438,000 for industrial development, $1,029,000 to relocate and resettle Indians to be displaced by the reservoir; $970,000 for construction and maintenance of community buildings; $2.3 million for education and $194,000 for a resurvey of villages within the reservation, including Salamanca, N.Y.

The Senate bill would merely authorize $6,116,550 for rehabilitation without earmarking any specific amount for any project. The funds could be used for any of the purposes mentioned in the House bill.

Foresee Action On Seneca Bill After Convention

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees are expected to wait until after the Republican national convention before making any new attempt to resolve their differences over a Seneca Indian compensation bill.

This was reported today by Rep. James A. Haley, D-Fla., chairman of the House Interior Subcommittee which drafted one version of the measure.
—$20.15 million in rehabilitation and damage funds.
The Senate voted only $9,126,
550 to compensate the Indians for loss of much of their Allegheny Reservation in Western New York in connection with construction of the Allegheny

River Dam and reservoir.
A special committee set up by the House and Senate to iron out differences in the bills has met four times thus far, twice last week.
Its main stumbling block is the size of the rehabilitation fund proposed for the Indians
—the House wants $16,931,000 and the Senate $6,116,550.
Virtually all other differences in the bills have been settled, at least tentatively.

Dies From Avon Crash

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—
Mrs. Maribel Rodgers, 62, of Rochester, died Tuesday night in Strong Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in the collision of three automobiles near Avon on June 14, which took the lives of four other persons.

The Republican convention begins July 13 and Congress is expected to reconvene the week of July 19.
The rehabilitation fund in the House bill would provide $8 million for a Williamsburg-type restoration of Iroquois Indian culture on the Seneca reservation, $4,438,000 for industrial development, $1,029,000 to relocate and resettle Indians to be displaced by the reservoir; $970, 000 for construction and maintenance of community buildings,
$2.3 million for education and $194,000 for a survey of villages within the reservation, including Salamanca, N.Y.
The Senate bill would merely authorize $6,116,550 for rehabilitation without earmarking any specific amount for any project.
The funds could be used for any of the purposes mentioned in the House bill.

Many Methods To Play Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Here is a hand from Edgar Kaplan's "Winning Bridge Complete" that illustrates quite a few principles of bidding and play.

Let's consider the play in a novice game. The jack of spades is played on West's six. East covers the jack with king and South with the ace. South leads a diamond toward dummy. West ducks and the jack forces East's king. The ten clears the spade suit, but South continues about the business of setting up his own diamonds.

West gets the lead with the ace and plays a heart. If South finesses he will be set two tricks, but South counts nine tricks and goes up with the ace and winds up with two spades, one heart, three diamonds and three clubs.

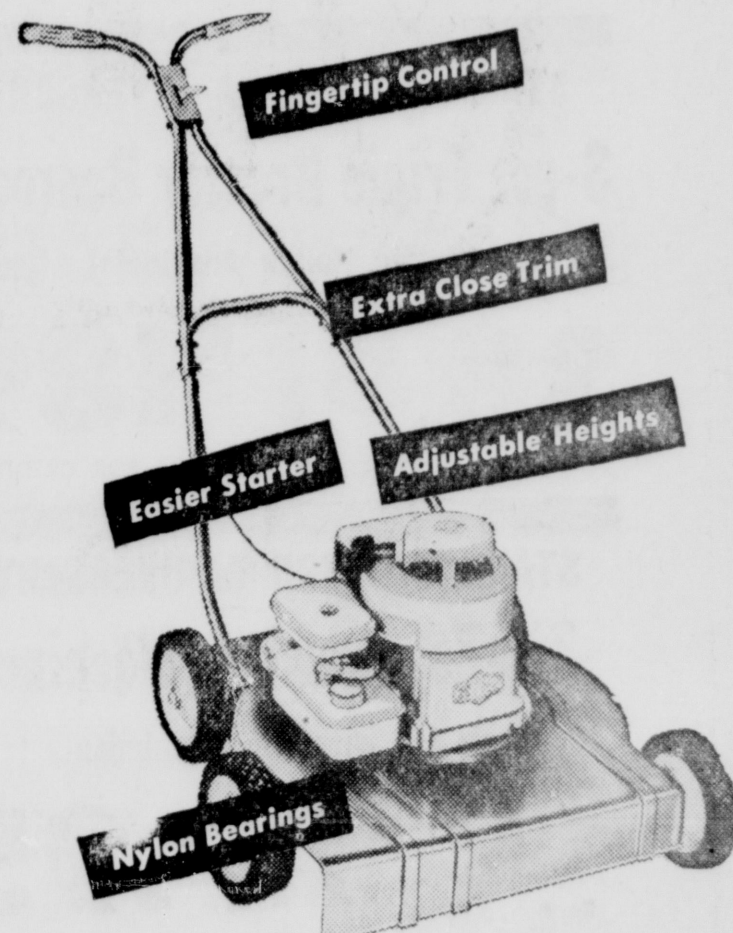

West might have set the hand by playing second hand high on the first diamond lead and setting up his partner's spade suit while East still held the king of diamonds but declarer still could have made the hand by two different lines of play.

One way would have been to let East's king hold the first spade trick. The other is to go right after hearts and wind up with two spades, four hearts and three clubs.
Could East have set the hand by playing the ten of spades at trick one? Could South have made the hand against any defense? See tomorrow's article for the answer.

One way would have been to let East's king hold the first spade trick. The other is to go right after hearts and wind up with two spades, four hearts and three clubs.

Could East have set the hand by playing the ten of spades at trick one? Could South have made the hand against any defense? See tomorrow's article for the answer.

Can Win With Realistic Policies

Lodge Declares War in Viet Has Started 'Downward Spiral'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the "downward spiral" in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

He said "we will win" if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

In his first major speech since returning from Saigon Monday, after resigning as ambassador, Lodge pictured the greatest threat to this confident outlook as an increase in "hostile outside pressures" from the Communist side.

If those pressures grow too great, he said in an address prepared for the National Press Club, then "we may be forced" to take other actions to deal with the new threat.

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

Would Use Peaceful Means

He did say, however, that one kind of "outside pressures" can come from neighboring land used as a "sanctuary" from which Viet Nam can be attacked and the Communist Viet Cong forces given assistance "with impunity."

"Obviously," Lodge said, "when one is engaged in a life-and-death struggle, such a 'sanctuary' must not go on forever." But he added: "It should be possible to deal with this problem by peaceful means."

Lodge declared the United States "must work for effective supervision" of South Viet Nam's borders with North Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos to stop the Communists from violating them in moving supplies and reinforcements into South Viet Nam and in making attacks on that country.

Supervision Essential

He said proper supervision of the borders is essential for ending aggression in Viet Nam and for achieving peace in Southeast Asia. He did not say how the supervision might be achieved. There has been speculation that the United States might ask the United Nations to undertake the task.

Lodge devoted his prepared address entirely to a report on the conflict in Viet Nam. He served there as ambassador for 10 months before his decision two weeks ago to come home and help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his fight against Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lodge warned Americans against becoming discouraged about the struggle in Southeast Asia, declaring that they should emulate the "mole-like patience" of the Communists in what he said will be a long struggle.

"If we and the Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies, we will win—provided the hostile outside pressures stay as they were about last summer."

Mrs. Jeannette H. Kelly of 165 Pearl Street, has been notified by William H. McKeon, New York State Democratic chairman, that she has been elected by the State Committee as an alternate delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention. The convention is August 24 at Atlantic City, N. J.

It is believed that Mrs. Kelly is the first woman ever selected from Ulster County to attend a Democratic National Convention. An investigation disclosed whiskey from the motel missing. Before Justice of the Peace Beaver Tuesday they were charged with petit larceny and were given six months each in the county jail on a plea of guilty to the charge.

House Will Vote Thursday on CR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes Thursday on the revised civil rights bill. Overwhelming approval is expected which would send the measure to President Johnson for a symbolic July 4th signing ceremony.

Tuesday night, a pro-civil rights bloc on the House Rules Committee, by a 10-5 vote, cleared the 126-page bill for House floor action.

The House approved the original version on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290 to 130. House members now will vote on the Senate version of the bill.

The idea of a Fourth of July signing ceremony moved a Rules Committee member, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., to declare "I think it would be a desecration."

Another Southerner, Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, Jr., D-La., predicted that the civil rights bill and the racial issue "is going to be the issue whether you want it or not" in the November presidential election.

"The Democratic party hoped for a me-too Republican candidate, so the line never would be drawn," he said. "Now it appears that it won't be a me-too candidate, and the line is going to be sharply drawn."

He mentioned no names. But Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP nomination, voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate and said parts of it were unconstitutional.

The bill was not changed in any basic way in the Senate. Its 11 sections include bans on discrimination in public accommodations, employment and federally aided programs.

It gives the attorney general power to sue desegregation of public schools, parks and playgrounds, and to help individuals secure equal protection of the law.

Fire Meeting Is Recessed Until List Is Available

A Tuesday night meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners was recessed pending the forwarding of a civil service eligibility list to be considered by the board for naming three new men to the department.

The list was not available at last night's meeting.

Appointment of three third grade firemen is necessary because of the recent retirement of Francis T. Coughlin, of 23 Jason Avenue, the resignation of Donald A. Baum, of 73 Horland Avenue, and because of the need of an extra man to reduce the working hours of firemen.

Chief James M. Brett said 11 men are actually needed to bring the department to working efficiency, and to comply with a state regulation which permits the gradual lessening of working hours of firemen.

Brett cited the need for 11 men in his annual report in January, mainly for start, this year, of a second phase in reducing working hours which are ultimately to be cut from 56 to 48 hours.

The January report noted that the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in 1960, had proposed adding 41 men to bring the department to full strength. From that year, until the time of the report, he noted, three men had been added. The department would be hit hardest this year, he indicated, during vacation months.

Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wicks Company were summoned at 1:58 p. m. and the fire was doused with pressurized water. The call was the fourth to the station in recent weeks. Officers Raymond Wells, Meyer Levy and Richard Scherer were also dispatched there yesterday.

Catskills Prepare For Rush Season

More than two million visitors will vacation in the Catskill Mountains this summer, the New York State Commerce Department predicts. Two of the main routes to the New York World's Fair, the Thruway on the east and Route 17 on the south, border the popular vacation area and make it easy for visitors to the Fair to make a Catskill vacation part of their trip.

The mountains extend through Greene, Ulster, Delaware and Sullivan Counties and are a forest area with elevations of more than 4,000 feet. The region became a popular vacation area early in the 19th century when it was made famous by writers like Washington Irving and James Fenimore Cooper, artists like Thomas Cole, Asher B. Missing with Crowell's plane, the Navy said, were Ens. Donald L. Tarr Jr., 28, of Salinas, Calif., and Lt. Cmdr. M.T. Carlton, 42, of Los Altos, Calif.

The other plane carried Cmdr. T.W. Martin, 41, of Reno, Nev., and Lt. Cmdr. Joseph J. LePage, 41, of Mountain View, Calif.

State Syllabus Lists Where Bait Fish Is Illegal

The waters where the use of bait fish is illegal are listed in the state hunting, trapping and fishing guide which is distributed free at the time licenses are issued.

The portion in the syllabus pertaining to the law is listed under bait fish and states, "The release of bait fish, or use of fish as bait, dead or alive, is prohibited in the following lakes and ponds and their tributaries from October 1, 1963 to Sept. 30, 1964."

No nearby counties are listed under the prohibition.

Can Win With Realistic Policies

Lodge Declares War in Viet Has Started 'Downward Spiral'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the "downward spiral" in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

He said "we will win" if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

In his first major speech since returning from Saigon Monday, after resigning as ambassador, Lodge pictured the greatest threat to this confident outlook as an increase in "hostile outside pressures" from the Communist side.

If those pressures grow too great, he said in an address prepared for the National Press Club, then "we may be forced" to take other actions to deal with the new threat.

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

Would Use Peaceful Means

He did say, however, that one kind of "outside pressures" can come from neighboring land used as a "sanctuary" from which Viet Nam can be attacked and the Communist Viet Cong forces given assistance "with impunity."

"Obviously," Lodge said, "when one is engaged in a life-and-death struggle, such a 'sanctuary' must not go on forever." But he added, "it should be possible to deal with this problem by peaceful means."

Lodge declared the United States "must work for effective supervision" of South Viet Nam's borders with North Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos to stop the Communists from violating them in moving supplies and reinforcements into South Viet Nam and in making attacks on that country.

Supervision Essential

He said proper supervision of the borders is essential for ending aggression in Viet Nam and for achieving peace in Southeast Asia. He did not say how the supervision might be achieved. There has been speculation that the United States might ask the United Nations to undertake the task.

Lodge devoted his prepared address entirely to a report on the conflict in Viet Nam. He served there as ambassador for 10 months before his decision two weeks ago to come home and help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his fight against Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lodge warned Americans against becoming discouraged about the struggle in Southeast Asia, declaring that they should emulate the "model-like patience" of the Communists in what he said will be a long struggle.

"If we and the Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies, we will win—provided the hostile outside pressures stay as they were about last summer."

The mountain scenery attracts tourists to the network of highways which lace the area and for those who want a closer view there are more than 200 miles of hiking trails. A chair lift on Belleayre Mountain, at Highmount, provides a less strenuous approach to a mountain-top panorama. Another chair lift operates at Hunter.

The Catskill Game Farm, at Cairo, is one of the largest in the country. Sterling Forest Gardens, near Tuxedo, has outstanding floral displays. At Washingtonville, visitors may inspect the operations of the Brotherhood Winery and at the Empire State Railway Museum in Middletown they may ride an old steam train. Another glimpse of the life of the past is offered at the Old Museum Village of Smith's Clove at Monroe.

Historical sites include Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh. Nearby are the headquarters of General Henry Knox and the last encampment of the Continental Army where a reconstruction of the famous "Temple" is under way.

Senate House Here

At Kingston is the Senate House, birthplace of the State of New York. At Roxbury "Woodchuck Lodge," the home of John Burroughs, famous nature writer, has been designated a National Historic Landmark.

The Catskills are famous for old stone houses built before the Revolution. Hurley will hold its Old Stone House Day, July 11. Similar events will be at New Paltz, August 1 and at Stone Ridge, August 8.

There are more than 2,000 resorts, hotels, motels and boarding houses in the area. Most operate on the American plan with meals and accommodations included in the rate. The average hotel accommodates about 75 guests. Recreation offered on the premises includes swimming, tennis, golf and shuffleboard. Other popular sports are fishing, horseback riding and hiking. An Italian bowling game called bocci is popular at many places.

1 Dead, 4 Missing In West Coast Plane Collision

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif. (AP)—One naval reservist is dead and four others are missing after collision of two Navy submarine-tracking planes.

A sport-fishing boat near the crash four miles north of this resort island picked up the body of one victim Tuesday. The Navy identified him as Lt. K.R. Crowell, 40, of Thousand Oaks, Calif.

Missing with Crowell's plane, the Navy said, were Ens. Donald L. Tarr Jr., 28, of Salinas, Calif., and Lt. Cmdr. M.T. Carlton, 42, of Los Altos, Calif.

The other plane carried Cmdr. T.W. Martin, 41, of Reno, Nev., and Lt. Cmdr. Joseph J. LePage, 41, of Mountain View, Calif.

Helicopters and boats converging on the scene found only floating debris, gasoline slick and a partly inflated life raft.

Anderson estimated the planes collided at 1,000 feet and fell 100 feet apart. They sank in 500 feet of water off Avalon.

State Syllabus Lists Where Bait Fish Is Illegal

The new Conservation Department order regarding illegal possession of fish for bait while angling in certain trout waters is an amendment to a previous law and does not pertain to Ulster County trout waters.

The waters where the use of bait fish is illegal are listed in the state hunting, trapping and fishing guide which is distributed free at the time licenses are issued.

The portion in the syllabus pertaining to the law is listed under bait fish and states, "The release of bait fish, or use of fish as bait, dead or alive, is prohibited in the following lakes and ponds and their tributaries from October 1, 1963 to Sept. 30, 1964."

No nearby counties are listed under the prohibition.

Expelled for Heresy

SHEFFIELD, England (AP)—A Methodist minister who calls the Virgin birth "a piece of mythology" has been expelled from the ministry on a heresy charge.

"I am no longer a Methodist minister," Walter Gill, 49, said after a two-hour hearing before the church conference Tuesday. There is no appeal from the decision.

Gill, who had been minister to three churches in northern England, said he has a wife, two children and "not a bean in the world."

Pierre Monteux, Conductor, Dies In His 89th Year

HANCOCK, Maine (AP) — French-born Pierre Monteux, 89, a commanding figure among orchestra conductors for half a century, died early today at his home after a long illness.

Monteux's sister, Mrs. David Michlin, said he had been confined to his bed for several months and died in his sleep.

Monteux's first conductorship was of the Ballet Russe in France in 1910. The company toured the United States in 1915 and Monteux stayed on to become conductor of the French repertoire of the Metropolitan Opera for three years.

He then took over as conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for five years and was conductor of the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam Symphony for nine years.

In 1934, he returned to the United States and picked up the pieces of the faltering San Francisco Symphony, directing it for 17 years.

Monteux and his wife, Doris Hodgkins Monteux, lived on an estate near his birthplace here for many summers. They moved here permanently in 1952 when Monteux stepped down at San Francisco.

Even in retirement he had made many guest conducting appearances.

Monteux once said he liked Brahms, Beethoven, Schumann and Wagner "in that order." "I don't like abstract music," he said. "Or abstract painting either. Modern is all right, but not abstract."

Khrush Is Urging Norway, Denmark To Leave NATO

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev made a public bid Tuesday night for Norway and Denmark to quit the North Atlantic alliance and join Finland and Sweden in a Nordic zone of neutrality.

An audience of 900-including government ministers, members of Parliament and diplomats—did not applaud Khrushchev's plea in an address at the politically independent Norwegian Institute of Foreign Affairs.

Although insisting that he was not offering advice to the Norwegian government and Parliament, Khrushchev urged adherence to the neutral policies of Sweden and Finland.

"We think it would be a contribution toward peace in the north if Norway and Denmark were not bound by military obligations toward states which have nothing to do with this area," the visiting premier said.

"We think that the participation of such countries as Norway and Denmark in the military plans of the West has been created through a mere set of circumstances."

"From our point of view, the most reliable guarantee for the security of such countries as Norway and Denmark, Sweden and Finland is a policy of neutrality which both sides would recognize — both the Western powers and the Socialist countries."

Canada exports some 90 percent of its nickel production.

Priest Is Serving As Firefighter

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest here helps to save people—both spiritually and physically. The Rev. Eugene R. Weis is a volunteer fireman in the suburban North Greece Fire District and also serves as the firemen's chaplain and offers spiritual comfort to those injured.

"Father Weis knows his fire-fighting," Chief Harold Miller said. "He's been attending drills for a year... and he can step right in during an emergency," Miller added.

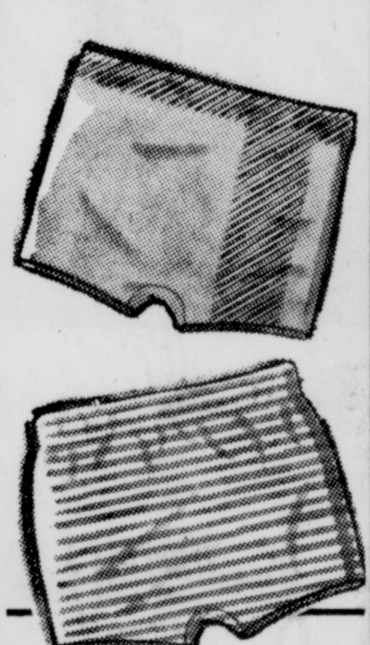

Residents know Father Weis by his priest's collar under his rubber coat. He wears a fireman's hat, too.

UNCERTAIN IF SHE'S BEEN INVITED

Q: I am faced with a ticklish situation. A friend of mine is going to be married. The invitations have been sent out but I did not receive one and I can't imagine why. She has discussed her wedding plans with me on quite a few occasions and intimated that I was going to be invited. I really am disappointed as I had looked forward to going. Perhaps it was just an oversight and then again the invitation may have been lost in the mail. Could I possibly call her or when I see her, tell her that I did not receive an invitation?

A: It is very possible that the invitation went astray but it may also be that she found she had to cut her wedding list and could not invite you after all. If this last is the case and you tell her that you did not receive an invitation, it would place the bride-to-be in the embarrassing position of having to tell you that she did not send you one. About the only thing you can do is to have a mutual friend try to find out if an invitation was sent to you.

Mounting and Descending Stairs

Q: Recently a discussion arose regarding a point of etiquette which we would like you to settle: "A" claims that when a lady and gentleman are going upstairs, the lady precedes the gentleman and when coming down, the gentleman precedes the lady. "B" claims the opposite. Who is right?

A: The lady normally precedes the gentleman in both cases, but coming down, if the stairs are steep, he would precede her to protect her from falling should she lose her footing.

Ordering Dinner in a Restaurant

Q: When a man invites me to dinner in a restaurant, do I give my order directly to the waiter or do I tell my host what I would like and let him do the ordering?

A: You tell your host what you would like and he orders for you.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Turnau Opera Opens 10th Season With Mozart's Abduction

The Turnau Opera Players will open their tenth summer season at the Byrdcliffe Theatre, Woodstock, on July 10 with Mozart's sparkling comedy The Abduction from the Seraglio.

A brilliant new production of this work was subsidized by the Asolo Opera Guild for the Turnau Opera Players' winter theatre in Sarasota, Fla. earlier this year. The critics hailed it as a "top level performance."

Mozart wrote the "Abduction" shortly after he was married and the music magnificently expresses the romantic idealism of the young composer. The plot revolves around the attempts of a Spanish nobleman and his servant to enter the harem of a Turkish pasha where their sweethearts are being held captive. The work is an exquisite example of the 18th century European fascination with the oriental world and contains some of Mozart's most soaring and moving music.

Drusilla Lodge, J. B. Davis and Eric Davis of the Goldovsky Opera Company are among the outstanding voices to be heard on the Byrdcliffe stage. The colorful Turkish sets and costumes are designed by Jeanne Doyle. Stage direction is under Ian Strasfogel, son of the Metropolitan Opera conductor. Musical direction is under Yehudi Wyner in association with Warren Wilson.

Tickets are going quickly for the four performances which will take place on July 10, 11, 13 and 14. Curtain goes up at 8:30.

'Kind Sir' Playing at Woodstock Through July 5; 'Fantasticks' Next

The Broadway comedy hit, Kind Sir, is currently playing at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Kind Sir is the mocking and amusing tale of a romance; its flippant plot revolves around a brilliant and successful actress who has been so intent on her career that she has neglected her domestic happiness. She ruefully discovers that not many men have the ego for marrying a famous woman.

Just as she realizes this she is introduced to a wealthy banker whom her brother-in-law is trying to lure into government service. The romance begins, but soon the banker confesses to being married. Unimpeded by this admission, the romance thrives until it turns out that the marriage was a lie to protect the banker from any marital commitments.

Kind Sir will play through July 5 and will be followed on July 7 by the delightful musical, The Fantasticks.

This is a signal for the actress to play a trick or so on the deceiver.

Audrey Rhea is delightful in the part of the famous actress and John Hollow lends his sophisticated charm to the role of the banker diplomat.

Kind Sir bears the gay imprint of playwright Norman Krasna who has brought us such hits as, Dear Ruth, John Loves Mary, Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?, and Sunday in New York. The production is directed by Neil McKenzie and is designed by Milton Duke. Also in the cast are Diana Webster, James Cahill, John Leighton and Gaye Glaeser.

Kind Sir will play through July 5 and will be followed on July 7 by the delightful musical, The Fantasticks.

UNCERTAIN IF SHE'S BEEN INVITED

Q: I am faced with a ticklish situation. A friend of mine is going to be married. The invitations have been sent out but I did not receive one and I can't imagine why. She has discussed her wedding plans with me on quite a few occasions and intimated that I was going to be invited. I really am disappointed as I had looked forward to going. Perhaps it was just an oversight and then again the invitation may have been lost in the mail. Could I possibly call her or when I see her, tell her that I did not receive an invitation?

A: It is very possible that the invitation went astray but it may also be that she found she had to cut her wedding list and could not invite you after all. If this last is the case and you tell her that you did not receive an invitation, it would place the bride-to-be in the embarrassing position of having to tell you that she did not send you one. About the only thing you can do is to have a mutual friend try to find out if an invitation was sent to you.

Mounting and Descending Stairs

Q: Recently a discussion arose regarding a point of etiquette which we would like you to settle. "A" claims that when a lady and gentleman are going upstairs, the lady precedes the gentleman and when coming down, the gentleman precedes the lady. "B" claims the opposite. Who is right?

A: The lady normally precedes the gentleman in both cases, but coming down, if the stairs are steep, he would precede her to protect her from falling should she lose her footing.

Ordering Dinner in a Restaurant

Q: When a man invites me to dinner in a restaurant, do I give my order directly to the waiter or do I tell my host what I would like and let him do the ordering?

A: You tell your host what you would like and he orders for you.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Turnau Opera Opens 10th Season With Mozart's Abduction

The Turnau Opera Players will open their tenth summer season at the Byrdcliffe Theatre, Woodstock, on July 10 with Mozart's sparkling comedy The Abduction from the Seraglio.

A brilliant new production of this work was subsidized by the Asolo Opera Guild for the Turnau Opera Players' winter theatre in Sarasota, Fla. earlier this year. The critics hailed it as a "top level performance."

Mozart wrote the "Abduction" shortly after he was married and the music magnificently expresses the romantic idealism of the young composer. The plot revolves around the attempts of a Spanish nobleman and his servant to enter the harem of a Turkish pasha where their sweethearts are being held captive. The work is an exquisite example of the 18th century European fascination with the oriental world and contains some of Mozart's most soaring and moving music.

Drusilla Lodge, J. B. Davis and Eric Davis of the Goldovsky Opera Company are among the outstanding voices to be heard on the Byrdcliffe stage. The colorful Turkish sets and costumes are designed by Jeanne Doyle. Stage direction is under Ian Strasfogel, son of the Metropolitan Opera conductor. Musical direction is under Yehudi Wyner in association with Warren Wilson.

Tickets are going quickly for the four performances which will take place on July 10, 11, 13 and 14. Curtain goes up at 8:30.

'Kind Sir' Playing at Woodstock Through July 5; 'Fantasticks' Next

The Broadway comedy hit, Kind Sir, is currently playing at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Kind Sir is the mocking and amusing tale of a romance; its brilliant and successful actress who has been so intent on her career that she has neglected her domestic happiness. She ruefully discovers that not many men have the ego for marrying a famous woman.

Just as she realizes this she is introduced to a wealthy banker whom her brother-in-law is trying to lure into government service. The romance begins, but soon the banker confesses to being married. Unimpeded by this admission, the romance thrives until it turns out that the marriage was a lie to protect the banker from any marital commitments. This is a signal for the actress to play a trick or so on the deceiver.

Audree Rhea is delightful in the part of the famous actress and John Hollow lends his sophisticated charm to the role of the banker diplomat.

Kind Sir bears the gay imprint of playwright Norman Krasna who has brought us such hits as, Dear Ruth, John Loves Mary, Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?, and Sunday in New York. The production is directed by Neil McKenzie and is designed by Milton Duke. Also in the cast are Diana Webster, James Cahill, John Leighton and Gaye Glaeser.

Kind Sir will play through July 5 and will be followed on July 7 by the delightful musical, The Fantasticks.

Ballet was introduced into the American colonies as early as 1735 when Henry Holt, a dancer from London, presented "The Adventures of Harlequin and Scaramouch, with the Burgo-master Trick'd," in Charleston, S.C. The romantic ballet in America reached its peak in the early 1840's with the visit of Fanny Elssler. When the Austrian dancer appeared in Washington, D.C., Congress was obliged to recess because it could not obtain a quorum.

Scripts in Spare Time

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Nine new plays being given week-long exhibits this summer at the Pioneer Playhouse attest to the many sources of authorship. Among the scrip writers are an attorney, an advertising man, furniture manufacturer, producer of TV shows, a gag-writing duo and a father-son team.

Good with cooked smoked tongue or baked ham: Apple sauce and horseradish folded into whipped cream.

More Social Criticism

NEW YORK (AP) — Rolf Hochhuth, the German author of "The Deputy," is at work on another drama, "The Employer." "The play has two levels of time, 1942 and 1962," he explained recently. "I hope it won't be as long as 'The Deputy.'"

Sharing food and drink with friends after the ceremony is the most widespread of all marriage customs among all races and cultures, the National Geographic Society says.

Taylor, director of national research conferences on creativity at the University of Utah; Dr. E. Paul Torrance, Director, Bureau of Educational Research, University of Minnesota; Dr. J. P. Guilford, professor of psychology and director, Aptitudes Research Projects, University of Southern California; and Dr. Donald MacKinnon, director, Institute of Personality Assessment and Research, University of California.

Scripts in Spare Time

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Nine new plays being given week-long exhibits this summer at the Pioneer Playhouse attest to the many sources of authorship. Among the scrip writers are an attorney, an advertising man, furniture manufacturer, producer of TV shows, a gag-writing duo and a father-son team.

Good with cooked smoked tongue or baked ham: Applesauce and horseradish folded into whipped cream.

More Social Criticism

NEW YORK (AP) — Rolf Hochhuth, the German author of "The Deputy," is at work on another drama, "The Employer."

"The play has two levels of time, 1942 and 1962," he explained recently. "I hope it won't be as long as 'The Deputy.'"

Sharing food and drink with friends after the ceremony is the most widespread of all marriage customs among all races and cultures, the National Geographic Society says.

Ballet was introduced into the American colonies as early as 1735 when Henry Holt, a dancer from London, presented "The Adventures of Harlequin and Scaramouch, with the Burgo-master Trick'd," in Charleston, S.C. The romantic ballet in America reached its peak in the early 1840's with the visit of Fanny Elssler. When the Austrian dancer appeared in Washington, D.C., Congress was obliged to recess because it could not obtain a quorum.

Rochester Boards Will Start Talks On Road Controls

At the regular monthly meeting of the Town of Rochester Planning Board last week it was reported that all of the recommendations made by the Planning Board to the Town Board relative to the Sheldon development and Stonykill roads had been accepted.

The amount of work still to be done on land subdivision controls was discussed. It was agreed that with the presentation of the new specifications for minor roads to the Town Board an important part of these controls had been completed.

Winston Van Kleef submitted that several meetings would have to be held with the Town Board on the rest of the subdivision controls before they could be presented at a public hearing. He added that it would be preferable to do this in the fall and early winter rather than in the busy summer season.

It was unanimously agreed to eliminate Planning Board meetings July and August except for special meetings.

Attending the meeting were chairman John W. Scribano, Gerald DeWitt, Samuel Reavin, Van Kleef and Edward C. Carle.

Car Premium Rise Reflects Accidents

HARRISBURG (AP) — Automobile insurance premiums rose 10 per cent on the average in Pennsylvania today, reflecting what the rating bureau called a "marked rise in the number of automobile accidents" in the state.

A state list of adjustments in the state's 40 rating territories was announced in New York Tuesday by the rating bureau—the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association.

The adjustments, in most cases representing increases but in some cases showing decreases, will not affect existing policies until they are renewed. The State Insurance Department said it approved the new rates fixed by the rating bureau of most insurers operating in the state with exception of Allstate and Nationwide, which operate independently.

The 10 per cent average increase for the state pertains to private passenger cars insured under the "family" and "basic" policies.

Laud School Cook At Dinner for 60; Retires This Year

Some 60 friends and associates of Mrs. Florence Anderson, cook in the school lunch program of the Kingston Consolidated Schools, honored her at a recent retirement dinner at Oehler's Mountain Lodge.

Dick McCarthy of WGHQ was toastmaster. Guest speakers included Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal of School No. 7; Edward R. Crosby, principal of Lake Katrine School, and John W. Johnson, director of the school lunch program. Guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Millman, of Newburgh, Mrs. Anderson's daughter and son-in-law, and Miss Judith Anderson, her daughter, who made a surprise trip for the occasion from the University of Maryland, where she is an associate professor.

The dinner culminated Mrs. Anderson's 16 years' service to the children of the local schools. She started working for the school lunch program as helper in School No. 2 in 1946 and a few years later she was assigned as cook at School No. 7 where she remained 12 years. During that time she was regarded as a "second mother" to numerous pupils and the kitchen became a "haven" for anyone who lost a button, needed something in an emergency or just wanted someone to listen to his or her problems.

Mrs. Anderson was transferred to the Lake Katrine School after she left School 7, and she soon won the affection and attention of children there.

Agreement was reached late Tuesday night at Hotel Stuyvesant. Employees of Siller Beef and members of Local 474, AFL-CIO Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Food Employees Union approved a contract at a meeting called that evening for ratification.

The new contract gives employees working in the plant increases from $20 to $25 per week over a two-year period. Management also agreed to contribute funds to a new pension plan.

Other benefits include improved vacations, improved hospitalization and welfare plans, sick pay and another holiday, Good Friday. Employees were also granted a 40-hour work week for duration of the contract.

The strike was called for Wednesday morning with deadline for negotiation Tuesday night. Management and employees argued over salary rates.

Attorney for Siller Beef was Henry Brickman of New York City, with John Sheehan, also of New York representing the union. On the committee for employees were John Perz, Frank Balash, Christopher Soffis, and John Miller. Also present at the negotiations were union president Patrick Reape and business agent Thomas Gloster.

NEW YORK (AP) — Cut-rate coupons that housewives clip to get discounts were the basis of a mail fraud that apparently netted eight men hundreds of thousands of dollars, federal prosecutors say.

Among the eight, indicted Tuesday, were three waste-paper dealers, well situated to scout magazine and newspaper.

U. S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey said the men had $100,000 worth of unredeemed coupons with them when they were arrested. He said that under the scheme the eight clipped coupons and sold them at cut rates to grocers who got the manufacturers to redeem them.

Prosecutors identified Harvey Sklaver, 47, of Woodmere, N.Y., as the ringleader, who sold coupons to grocers as well as his regular line, paper napkins.

Taylor Leaves July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the new U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, plans to leave Saturday night for his post in Saigon.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, with only Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., in opposition, approved Taylor's nomination Tuesday.

All in Johnson's Favor

Republican Squabbles Are Upsetting Path to Victory

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up.

Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who has to run against one of them, since nothing slows a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam, civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 10 months Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam.

He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track.

And he said more: he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was in charge of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart. For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona if he got the nomination.

This seems out the window now for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern Whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading northern

Kennedy Leaves Poland Amid Noise and Tears

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's visit to Poland ended today with a noisy, tearful farewell from hundreds of Poles and a cold shoulder from the Communist government.

Before leaving for London, en route to the United States, he issued a statement to newsmen urging "the reconciliation of Eastern and Western Europe in association with the United States" as "the only sure guarantee against nuclear war, whether by design or accident."

Except for low-ranking aides and security people, no Polish officials saw Kennedy, his wife and three of their children off at the airport. Although Kennedy's visit was private, he had been met on his arrival last Saturday by Ambassador Eugeniusz Mlnikiewicz of the Foreign Ministry.

Government Irritated

The government was understood to be irritated at Kennedy's series of stump-style speeches to street crowds and his visit to Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, against the advice of government officials.

Several hundred Poles outside Kennedy's hotel repeated the ovations he has received the past few days. They serenaded him with a chorus of "May you live 100 years" as he climbed again to the roof of his sedan.

At the airport, Kennedy got out of his car to shake hands with almost everyone standing in a crowd of 150 outside the fence. Two old women broke into tears. One kissed his hand and he patted her cheek.

Pickets Are Out

Kennedy's departure brought the first appearance of pickets during his visit. Both at the hotel and beside the plane were men with placards in Polish reading "In the name of peace, don't give nuclear weapons to West Germany" and "Why doesn't the government of the United States recognize our frontiers on the Oder and the Neisse?"

Kennedy shook hands with the pickets at the airport and gave one of them a rose.

In his statement to newsmen Kennedy plugged a theme which is said to have attracted the interest of Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki in a meeting two days ago.

It was that "Poland has political ties with the Soviet Union and personal ties with the United States and therefore has a unique opportunity to contrib-

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

Passes Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson approved extension of a batch of excise taxes Tuesday—just hours before they were due to expire.

The action assured the government of annual revenue of $1.9 billion from the taxes, on such items as liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, automobiles, local telephone service and airline tickets.

Earlier in the day, the extension had received voice vote approval from the House and passage on a 75-10 roll call in the Senate. The taxes were originally applied during the Korean War and have been extended annually since.

Other excise taxes on such things as jewelry, furs and cosmetics were not subject to renewal. The Senate voted to repeal these but the amendment was tossed out Monday by a Senate-House conference committee.

Work Space Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed Tuesday on a compromise authorization of more than $5.2 billion to continue the nation's space program—including the man-to-the-moon project.

The compromise retained $3.3 million of the $5.2 billion which the Senate added to the authorization previously voted by the House for the fiscal year which starts today.

The committee's action is subject to approval by both houses. Funds will be supplied by a later appropriation.

ute to European security and the easing of tension between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Kennedy said America wants Poland's help "in building those open bridges of reconciliation that President Johnson called for last month."

In a statement concluding his three-day visit to Poland, he also declared: "I believe that now is the time to work earnestly on the great problem ahead—the security of Poland and of Eastern Europe, of Germany and Western Europe, of the Soviet Union and of the United States."

Kennedy urged early discussions to settle the problem of divided Germany.

Pleads Guilty to Possessing Drug; Two Indictments

Warren Dawson, 30, of 1 Wurts Street, who is presently serving a term of one year in jail following conviction on a charge of possession of a narcotic, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful possession of a narcotic drug under a second indictment and was given another year in jail by County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday afternoon.

Charged with illegal possession and sale of a marijuana cigarette, a jury had found Dawson guilty of possession after trial but was unable to agree on the charge of sale. He was sentenced to a year in jail for possession and is presently serving that time.

Under the second indictment Dawson was charged with conspiracy as a felony in violation of Section 580 of the Penal Law and unlawfully possessing a narcotic drug. It was the second count of the indictment, a misdemeanor, that he pleaded to Monday. The alleged act took place May 4, 1963. On his plea a year in jail was imposed.

Appearing for Dawson was George Findley of New York City, who asked that leniency be shown.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt opposed leniency, stating that by accepting a plea to the lesser charge as named in the second count of the indictment, leniency had already been shown.

Following the plea of guilty to possession under indictment No. 5990, Assistant District Attorney Vogt moved to dismiss the count of sale as charged in indictment No. 6055 and to which the jury had been unable to agree at the time the defendant was found guilty of possession. Vogt said the principal witness was out of the country and it would be in expensive proposition to bring him back. There was no other evidence available to the prosecution other than that offered at the prior trial when the jury was unable to agree on the sale charge and Vogt therefore moved to dismiss this count. He also said a charge of double jeopardy might also be raised if the case were again moved for trial.

Judge Mino granted the motion and Attorney Findley did not oppose.

The charges grew out of alleged acts in the lower part of Kingston.

Rochester Boards Will Start Talks On Road Controls

At the regular monthly meeting of the Town of Rochester Planning Board last week it was reported that all of the recommendations made by the Planning Board to the Town Board relative to the Sheldon development and Stonykill roads had been accepted.

The amount of work still to be done on land subdivision controls was discussed. It was agreed that with the presentation of the new specifications for minor roads to the Town Board an important part of these controls had been completed.

Winston Van Kleeck submitted that several meetings would have to be held with the Town Board on the rest of the subdivision controls before they could be presented at a public hearing. He added that it would preferably be held in the fall and early winter rather than in the busy summer season.

It was unanimously agreed to eliminate Planning Board meetings July and August except for special meetings.

Attending the meeting were chairman John W. Scribano, Gerald DeWitt, Samuel Reavin, Van Kleeck and Edward C. Carle.

Guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Millman, of Newburgh, Mrs. Anderson's daughter and son-in-law, and Miss Judith Anderson, her daughter, who made a surprise trip for the occasion from the University of Maryland, where she is an associate professor.

The dinner culminated Mrs. Anderson's 16 years' service to the children of the local schools. She started working for the school lunch program as helper in School No. 2 in 1946 and a few years later she was assigned as cook at School No. 7 where she remained 12 years. During that time she was regarded as a "second mother" to numerous pupils and the kitchen became a "haven" for anyone who lost a button, needed something in an emergency or just wanted someone to listen to his or her problems.

Mrs. Anderson was transferred to the Lake Katrine School after she left School 7, and she soon won the affection and attention of children there.

All in Johnson's Favor

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up.

Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who has to run against one of them, since nothing slows a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam, civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 10 months Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam.

He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track.

And he said more: he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart. For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona if he got the nomination.

This seems out the window now for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern Whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading northern Republicans.

Kennedy Leaves Poland Amid Noise and Tears

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's visit to Poland ended today with a noisy, tearful farewell from hundreds of Poles and a cold shoulder from the Communist government.

Before leaving for London, en route to the United States, he issued a statement to newsmen urging "the reconciliation of Eastern and Western Europe in association with the United States" as "the only sure guarantee against nuclear war, whether by design or accident."

Except for low-ranking aides and security people, no Polish officials saw Kennedy, his wife and three of their children off at the airport. Although Kennedy's visit was private, he had been met on his arrival last Saturday by Ambassador Eugeniusz Milnikiel of the Foreign Ministry.

Government Irritated

The government was understood to be irritated at Kennedy's series of stump-style speeches to street crowds and his visit to Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, against the advice of government officials.

Several hundred Poles outside Kennedy's hotel repeated the ovations he has received the past few days. They serenaded him with a chorus of "May you live 100 years" as he climbed again to the roof of his sedan.

At the airport, Kennedy got out of his car to shake hands with almost everyone standing in a crowd of 150 outside the fence. Two old women broke into tears. One kissed his hand and he patted her cheek.

Pickets Are Out

Kennedy's departure brought the first appearance of pickets during his visit. Both at the hotel and beside the plane were men with placards in Polish reading "In the name of peace, don't give nuclear weapons to West Germany" and "Why doesn't

The winners tallied once off Thomas in the second and then put the boom to Ron and relief chucker Gene Rios with six runs in the third.

Jerry Forrester reached base on an error and went to third on Howie Mann's double. After Thomas walked Paul Giannuzzi, he was moved in front of Rios.

A passed ball netted the first run and then Rios walked Bob Beadle and Chick Boice to force in another marker. Stan Tanowski was plunked by a pitch to score the third run.

Another passed ball, Tony Spada's single and an error concluded the uprising.

Forrester allowed a run in the fifth but his mates tallied twice in the sixth to insure the triumph.

The one on top is a world famous legend. The one below it is the same legend redesigned into an all new station wagon.

It has the deluxe interior appointments and comfortable ride of a fine passenger car... carries six big adults plus more luggage and equipment than you can imagine. It's powered by America's only automotive overhead cam engine, the high torque Tornado OHC... offers optional extras such as automatic transmission, independent front suspension, power steering and power brakes. But the all new Wagoneer is really a "Jeep" vehicle at heart.

The "Jeep" Wagoneer goes up steep hills, over rough rugged terrain and through snow and mud that leave other cars helpless. And around slippery turns that cause fishtailing and skidding, it hugs the road with traditional "Jeep" traction.

The big reason is 4-wheel "Drivepower." All four wheels are power wheels instead of just two. Take a demonstration drive soon. You've never driven a car that can do the things this one can.

Centerfielder Zip Secreto gave starter Ron Thomas a three-run working margin with a homer with two on in the first inning.

Six Run Explosion
The winners tallied once off Thomas in the second and then put the boom to Ron and relief chucker Gene Rios with six runs in the third.

Jerry Forrester reached base on an error and went to third on Howie Mann's double. After Thomas walked Paul Giannuzzi, he was removed in favor of Rios.

A passed ball netted the first run and then Rios walked Bob Beadle and Chick Boice to force in another marker. Stan Tanowski was plunked by a pitch to score the third run.

Another passed ball, Tony Spada's single and an error concluded the uprising.

Forrester allowed a run in the fifth but his mates tallied twice in the sixth to insure the triumph.

The one on top is a world famous legend. The one below it is the same legend redesigned into an all new station wagon.

It has the deluxe interior appointments and comfortable ride of a fine passenger car... carries six big adults plus more luggage and equipment than you can imagine. It's powered by America's only automotive overhead cam engine, the high torque Toronado OHC... offers optional extras such as automatic transmission, independent front suspension, power steering and power brakes. But the all new Wagoneer is really a 'Jeep' vehicle at heart.

The 'Jeep' Wagoneer goes up steep hills, over rough rugged terrain and through snow and mud that leave other cars helpless. And around slippery turns that cause fishtailing and skidding, it hugs the road with traditional 'Jeep' traction.

The big reason is 4-wheel 'Drivepower.' All four wheels are power wheels instead of just two. Take a demonstration drive soon. You've never driven a car that can do the things this one can.

Jackson Misses Perfect Game; Tribe Has Trouble Against Sox

Single by Rose Only Safety In 1-0 Win Over Reds

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning of Philadelphia, one of the few men to pitch a perfect game, and Ken Johnson of Houston, one of the few to lose a no-hitter, faced each other.

So, who came closer to perfection?

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs.

The Bunning-Johnson duel failed to materialize at Houston Tuesday night. Bunning lost his bid for a perfect game in the first inning and Johnson never survived it—the victim of three errors that led to five runs and an 8-1 Philadelphia victory.

At Chicago, however, Jackson had a perfect game for six innings against Cincinnati and admittedly had started thinking seriously of a no-hitter.

"For the first time in my life I really felt I had a chance," said Jackson. "The thought which raced through my mind was that I could do it if I went through the order one more time."

The Only Hit

He couldn't get past the next batter. Pete Rose, leading off the seventh, ripped a slider into center field for a single. That was it for the Reds, however. Jackson set the final nine men down in order, winning 1-0 over Joey Jay, who was touched for only two hits.

"I threw Rose a slider down low," Jackson explained. "but it was through the middle and I imagine he guessed with me." Jackson's one-hitter made him the sixth 10-game winner in the National League and put him in an exclusive group of seven NL pitchers who have hurled no-hitters or one-hitters this season, surpassing the entire 1963 total.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry also turned in a shutout.

Collegiate Ace Paces Qualifiers

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A college sophomore leads 10 qualifiers from this district into the New York State men's amateur golf championship meet July 21-25 at Cooperstown.

Mike Swartz of nearby Felba, a sophomore at Ohio State University, scored a 73 Tuesday to take medal honors at the Williamsville Park Country Club.

He fired a 3-under-par 32 on the back nine and a 41 on the front nine. He bested by one stroke Dan Koehler of Brookfield and John Eaton of Williamsville, who had 74.

Bunning, knocked out in his last start Friday, posted his first victory since his June 21 perfect game against the New York Mets by checking the Colts on five hits. Any thoughts of another perfect game left after the leadoff batter drew a walk and any prospects of a no-hitter disappeared when Nellie Fox, the second man up, singled.

Chase Johnson Early Johnson, meanwhile, never had a chance. Walt Bond dropped a fly ball hit by the Taylor, and later in the inning added a throwing error while Joe Gaines also dropped a fly ball in the Phillies' five-run burst. Bunning, now 8-2, chased Johnson, 6-7, with a two-run single that wrapped up the rally.

Jackson, 10-5, allowed only five balls to be hit to the outfield as he outdueled Jay, 4-4. Jay became the loser when the Cubs scored in the sixth on a walk to Dick Bertell, Jackson's sacrifice and a single by Jimmy Stewart.

Perry retired 19 consecutive Mets at one stretch, brought his record to 6-3 and lowered his earned run average to 1.65 as the Giants won their 10th game in the last 12. Perry received home run support from Orlando Cepeda and Tom Haller.

Hank Aaron collected four hits for the Braves, including a homer, before pinch hitter Ty Cline clinched it for Milwaukee with a two-run homer in the eighth. It was Cline's first homer of the season and tagged Cardinal reliever Roger Craig with the loss.

Chicago Gets 12-3 Decision; Yanks in Sweep

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Doubleday's little boy Abner decided the game ought to be played with three outs in every inning. Cleveland pitchers would be all right if they needed only two.

The Indians' staff wasn't having much trouble getting those first two outs Tuesday night against Chicago. The 12-3 White Sox romp came while the Indian staff was chasing that elusive third one.

Cleveland owned a 1-0 lead through four innings but with two out and two on in the fifth, the roof fell in. Three hits, a hit batsman and a walk later the White Sox had seven runs. Then came out No. 3.

There were two out and a man on second in the sixth when three White Sox hits produced three more runs. And in the seventh, an error, two hits and a walk accounted for Chicago's final two runs—all after two were out.

Hits Grand Slam

The hitting heroes for the White Sox were Gerry McNertney, whose grand slam homer climaxed the seven-run fifth, and Pete Ward who rapped three hits driving in two runs. Ron Hansen also drove in a pair with two hits.

Juan Pizarro went the distance, winning his 10th although touched for John Romano's two-run homer.

In other AL action Tuesday, New York swept a two-night doubleheader from Los Angeles 4-0 and 3-2. Minnesota topped Baltimore 3-1, Washington edged Detroit 6-5 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1.

The White Sox shelled four Indian pitchers for 13 hits, 10 of them coming after two were out.

The victory left Chicago five games back of the Orioles who saw their seven game winning streak ended by a five-hitter hurled by Gerry Arrigo and Al Worthington.

The Twins got all their runs on singles. Bob Allison drove in one in the first and then Jimmie Hall delivered the other two in the third after Steve Barber had wild pitched the runners into scoring position.

Maris Wins It

Roger Maris tagged five hits for the Yankees including the game-winning homer in the ninth as New York swept two from the Angels. Jim Bouton fired a four-hitter in the opener and Al Downing, winning his first game in over a month, took the second game.

Mickey Mantle drove in two runs in the first game and Bouton never allowed more than one base runner in any inning. Clete Boyer's sensational game-ending catch bailed Downing out of a two-on spot in the ninth.

Rocky Colavito drove in both Kansas City runs with a homer and a double and three Athletic pitchers combined for a two-hitter.

Moe Drabowsky and Wes Stock permitted just one Red Sox hit over the first eight innings but Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer of the season broke the shutout in the ninth. John Wyatt came on to end it.

John Kennedy crashed a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth as the Senators came from behind to beat Detroit. Kennedy, who also singled home a run in the seventh, ruined Dave Wickersham's bid to become the major league's first 11 game winner.

Mickey Lolich came on after Ed Brinkman singled in the ninth and walked pinch hitter Chuck Cottier. Then Kennedy connected for the victory.

St. Mary's League Slates Playoffs

Playoff games in the St. Mary's Pee Wee Baseball league will be held tonight and next Wednesday, 6 o'clock, at the Myron J. Michael diamond.

The regular season ended with each club playing 15 games. Mets and Cubs will meet in the playoff for first place and the Red Sox and Tigers will oppose each other for fourth spot.

The final game is slated Saturday, July 11, 10 a. m. at the M/JM field. In case of rain it will take place the following week. After the championship game, awards will be made and an all-star team will be selected.

Many Candidates For Top Rookie

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Oliva, the Minnesota Twin who used the wrong passport to get into the country, may be writing his own ticket to American League rookie-of-the-year honors.

But AL President Joe Cronin said today the field is too strong to name a sure-fire candidate as mid-season nears. From what he terms a "great crop", Cronin puts Baltimore pitcher Wally Bunker and Boston outfielder Tony Conigliaro in the first rank with Oliva.

"It's just too early to pick a rookie-of-the-year," Cronin said in reviewing the general youth movement around the circuit which pleases him so much. Oliva is the Cuban-born left-handed hitter who used his brother's passport to enter the United States and since has taken the league by storm. He recently lost the lead in the batting race he had held virtually all season.

Jackson Misses Perfect Game; Tribe Has Trouble Against Sox

Single by Rose Only Safety In 1-0 Win Over Reds

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning of Philadelphia, one of the few men to pitch a perfect game, and Ken Johnson of Houston, one of the few to lose a no-hitter, faced each other.

So, who came closer to perfection?

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs.

The Bunning-Johnson duel failed to materialize at Houston Tuesday night. Bunning lost his bid for a perfect game in the first inning and Johnson never survived it the victim of three errors that led to five runs and an 8-1 Philadelphia victory.

At Chicago, however, Jackson had a perfect game for six innings against Cincinnati and admittedly had started thinking seriously of a no-hitter.

"For the first time in my life I really felt I had a chance," said Jackson. "The thought which raced through my mind was that I could do it if I went through the order one more time."

The Only Hit

He couldn't get past the next batter. Pete Rose, leading off the seventh, ripped a slider into center field for a single. That was it for the Reds, however.

Jackson set the final nine men down in order, winning 1-0 over Joey Jay, who was touched for only two hits.

"I threw Rose a slider down low," Jackson explained, "but it was through the middle and I imagine he guessed with me."

Jackson's one-hitter made him the sixth 10-game winner in the National League and put him in an exclusive group of seven NL pitchers who have hurled no-hitters or one-hitters this season, surpassing the entire 1963 total.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry also turned in a shutout.

Collegiate Ace Paces Qualifiers

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A college sophomore leads 10 qualifiers from this district into the New York State men's amateur golf championship meet July 21-25 at Cooperstown.

Mike Swartz of nearby Felba, a sophomore at Ohio State University, scored a 73 Tuesday to take medal honors at the Wil. He fired a 3-under-par 32 on Williams Park Country Club.

He was the back nine and a 41 on the front nine. He bested by one stroke Dan Koehler of Brookfield and John Eaton of Williams, who had 74.

blanking the New York Mets 5-0 on three hits as the Giants remained one-half game in front of the Phillies. Milwaukee edged St. Louis 5-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Bunning, knocked out in his last start Friday, posted his first victory since his June 21 perfect game against the New York Mets by checking the Colts on five hits, 13th thoughts of another perfect game left after the leadoff batter drew a walk and any prospects of a no-hitter disappeared when Nellie the second man up, singled.

Chase Johnson Early

Johnson, meanwhile, never had a chance. Wait. Bond dropped a fly ball hit by the Taylor and later in the inning added a throwing error while Joe Gaines also dropped a fly ball in the Phillies' five-run burst. Bunning, now 8-2, chased Johnson, 6-7, with a two-run single that wrapped up the rally.

Jackson, 10-5, allowed only five balls to be hit to the outfield as he outdueled Jay, 4-1. Jay became the loser when the Cubs scored in the sixth on a walk to Dick Bertell, Jackson's sacrifice and a single by Jimmy Stewart.

Perry retired 19 consecutive Mets at one stretch, brought his record to 6-3 and lowered his earned run average to 1.65 as the Giants won their 10th game in the last 12. Perry received home run support from Orlando Cepeda and Tom Haller.

Hank Aaron collected four hits for the Braves, including a homer, before pinch hitter Ty Cline clinched it for Milwaukee with a two-run homer in the eighth. It was Cline's first homer of the season and tagged Cardinal reliever Roger Craig with the loss.

Chicago Gets 12-3 Decision; Yanks in Sweep

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Doubleday's little boy Abner decided the game ought to be played with three outs in every inning. Cleveland pitchers would be all right if they needed only two.

The Indians' staff wasn't having much trouble getting those first two outs Tuesday night against Chicago. The 12-3 White Sox romp came while the Indian staff was chasing that elusive third one.

Cleveland owned a 1-0 lead through four innings but with two out and two on in the fifth, the roof fell in. Three hits, a hit batsman and a walk later the White Sox had seven runs. Then came out No. 3.

There were two out and a man on second in the sixth when three White Sox hits produced three more runs. And in the seventh, an error, two hits and a walk accounted for Chicago's final two runs—all after two were out.

Hits Grand Slam

The hitting heroes for the White Sox were Gerry McNertney, whose grand slam homer climaxed the seven run fifth, and Pete Ward who rapped three hits, driving in two runs. Ron Hansen also drove in a pair with two hits.

Juan Pizarro went the distance, winning his 10th although touched for John Romano's two-run homer.

In other AL action Tuesday, New York swept a two-night doubleheader from Los Angeles 4-0 and 3-2. Minnesota topped Baltimore 3-1. Washington edged Detroit 6-5 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1.

The White Sox shelled four Indian pitchers for 13 hits, 10 of them coming after two were out.

The victory left Chicago five games back of the Orioles who saw their seven game winning streak ended by a five-hitter hurled by Gerry Arrigo and Al Worthington.

The Twins got all their runs on singles. Bob Allison drove in one in the first and then Jimmie Hall delivered the other two in the third after Steve Barber had wild pitched the runners into scoring position.

Maris Wins It

Roger Maris tagged five hits for the Yankees including the game-winning homer in the ninth as New York swept two from the Angels. Jim Bouton fired a four-hitter in the opener and Al Downing, winning his first game in over a month, took the second game.

Mickey Mantle drove in two runs in the first game and Bouton never allowed more than one base runner in any inning. Cleve Boyer's sensational game-ending catch bailed Downing out of a two-on spot in the ninth.

Rocky Colavito drove in both Kansas City runs with a homer and a double and three Athletic pitchers combined for a two-hitter.

Moe Drabowsky and Wes Stock permitted just one Red Sox hit over the first eight innings but Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer of the season broke the shutout in the ninth. John Wyatt came on to end it.

John Kennedy crashed a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth as the Senators came from behind to beat Detroit. Kennedy, who also singled home a run in the seventh, ruined Dave Wickersham's bid to become the major league's first 11 game winner.

Mickey Lolich came on after Ed Brinkman singled in the ninth and walked pinch hitter Chuck Cottier. Then Kennedy connected for the victory.

St. Mary's League Slates Playoffs

Playoff games in the St. Mary's Pee Wee Baseball league will be held tonight and next Wednesday, 6 o'clock, at the Myron J. Michael diamond.

The regular season ended with each club playing 15 games. Mets and Cubs will meet in the playoff for first place and the Red Sox and Tigers will oppose each other for fourth spot.

The final game is slated Saturday, July 11, 10 a. m. at the MJM field. In case of rain it will take place the following week.

After the championship game, awards will be made and an all-star team will be selected.

Many Candidates For Top Rookie

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Oliva, the Minnesota Twin who used the wrong passport to get into the country, may be writing his own ticket to American League rookie-of-the-year honors.

But AL President Joe Cronin said today the field is too strong to name a sure-fire candidate as mid-season nears. From what he terms a "great crop," Cronin puts Baltimore pitcher Wally Bunker and Boston outfielder Tony Conigliaro in the first rank with Oliva.

"It's just too early to pick a rookie-of-the-year," Cronin said in reviewing the general youth movement around the circuit which pleases him so much.

Oliva is the Cuban-born left-handed hitter who used his brother's passport to enter the United States and since has taken the league by storm. He recently lost the lead in the batting race he had held virtually all season.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

UPSET CHANCE — I'm A Gander (7th).

1. MARY'S MARIANN was forced to go three wide the last time and had nothing left in the drive to the finish. DISCRETION is almost always in the money and looms as the horse to beat. SHELL BOMB will set the early pace and may hang on.

2. BAY LEIGH is picked on a hunch. FRANSANS can reverse. Had two good qualifiers. TRISHAINE will be tough if on gear.

3. MR. MEDIA picked up almost five lengths in the stretch. Can win if close up at the half. COLONEL'S BOY in a sharp barn. JOEY LAD broke and was then forced to race overland. Could be trouble in this one.

4. CER-MEL ADIOS has a different name but still won four of five as Adios George. Looms as the best bet of the week here. KEY FEATURE will provide the competition. AIRDOIS moved like the blazes in the stretch.

5. OUR ADIOS gets a shaky nod in an wide-open race. HANK has come class but the driver has none at all. DASH FOR CASH will go to the top and might hang on.

6. DUNDEEN is always tough inside. Is capable of going all the way in front. SKIPPER TASS had the benefit of a past pace the last time. Post hurts here. PAULA VO just made it at the wire. Seeks second straight.

7. IVY CASTLE has been consistent at Monticello. Seeks third win in four tries. I'M A GANDER has been slow in regaining last year's form. If it does, look for an upset. ROYAL

Jackson Was Only Thinking Of Winning During 1-Hitter

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Jackson has never pitched a no-hitter and by his own admission, has never thought of pitching one—except for a moment Tuesday.
"After I had retired the first 12 men in order," said the 33-year-old Cubs' right-hander, "I went into the dugout and told the boys to get me some runs because I'm not even a shutout pitcher, let alone a no-hit pitcher."
"I knew what was going on and I didn't want anyone to tighten up in my behalf," continued Jackson. "I also knew Joey Jay was going to pitch a great game so I decided to make some crack to loosen everyone up."
Except for a leadoff single by Pete Rose in the seventh inning, Jackson pitched the perfect ball and hurled the Cubs to a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The only run Jackson needed came on a run-scoring single by shortstop Jim Stewart in the sixth inning. Stewart, who also doubled in the first, accounting for all of Chicago's hits off Jay.
After Jackson had retired the first 18 Reds in order he started thinking seriously of a no-hit decisions.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

UPSET CHANCE — I'm A Gander (7th).

1. MARY'S MARIANN was forced to go three wide the last time and had nothing left in the drive to the finish. DISCRETION is almost always in the money and looks as the horse to beat. SHELL BOMB will set the early pace and may hang on.

2. BAY LEIGH is picked on a hunch. FRANSANN can reverse. Had two good qualifiers. TRISHAINE will be tough if on gait.

3. MR. MEDIA picked up almost five lengths in the stretch. Can win if close up at the half. COLONEL'S BOY in a sharp barn. JOEY LAD broke and was then forced to race overland. Could be trouble in this one.

4. CER-MEL ADIOS has a classic name but still won four of five as Adios George. Looks as the best bet of the week here. KEY FEATURE will provide the competition. AIRDOIS moved like the blazes in the stretch.

5. OUR ADIOS gets a shaky nod in a wide-open race. HANK has come class but the driver has none at all. DASH FOR CASH will go to the top and might hang on.

6. DUNDEEN is always tough inside. Is capable of going all the way in front. SKIPPER TASS had the benefit of a past pace the last time. Post hurts here. PAULA VO just made it at the wire. Seeks second straight.

7. IVY CASTLE has been consistent at Monticello. Seeks third win in four tries. I'M A GANDER has been slow in regaining last year's form. If it does, look for an upset. ROYAL

Jackson Was Only Thinking Of Winning During 1-Hitter

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Jackson has never pitched a no-hitter and by his own admission, has never thought of pitching one—except for a moment Tuesday.

"After I had retired the first 12 men in order," said the 33-year-old Cubs' right-hander, "I went into the dugout and told the boys to get me some runs because I'm not even a shutout pitcher, let alone a no-hit pitcher."

"I knew what was going on and I didn't want anyone to tighten up in my behalf," continued Jackson. "I also knew Joey Jay was going to pitch a great game so I decided to make some crack to loosen everyone up."

Except for a leadoff single by Pete Rose in the seventh inning, Jackson pitched perfect ball and hurled the Cubs to a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The only run Jackson needed came on a run-scoring single by shortstop Jim Stewart in the sixth inning. Stewart, who also doubled in the first, accounting for all of Chicago's hits off Jay.

After Jackson had retired the first 18 Reds in order he started thinking seriously of a no-hit-

"For the first time in my life I really felt I had a chance," said Jackson. "The thought which raced through my mind was that I could do it if I went through the order one more time."

It all ended quickly. Pete Rose, the first man Jackson faced in the seventh, singled to center. After that Jackson retired the last nine men in a row to record his 10th victory in 15 decisions.

Cool Air Promises Relief This Month From Drought

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Cool air swept down from the north today and held promise of relief for New Yorkers wilted by sizzling weather that closed June on a dry note.

The Weather Bureau said more high temperatures were in store today and foresaw the possibility of showers—sorely needed to dampen the water-starved eastern side of the state.

June ended in oven-like temperatures. The Weather Bureau reported temperatures ranging from the upper 80s to the upper 90s, including a record 98 degrees in Albany and record 99 degrees in New York City and in Poughkeepsie. Both were records for June 30 in those cities.

If It's Up to History

The Weather Bureau held out the prospect of rain in July after an extremely dry June — if history proves true.

A survey of the 10 driest Junes on record indicated that, in most cases, the following month had normal to far above normal rainfall, the bureau said.

While conservation officials welcomed the prospect of woodlands dampened by rain, they held fears that lightning and accompanying thunderstorms, might spark new forest fires.

Lightning has been blamed for at least eight Adirondack forest fires since last Friday night.

To beef up its fire-fighting force, the State Conservation Department has rented a converted torpedo bomber and equipped it to drop water on forest fires.

Awaiting Word

Meanwhile, agricultural interests awaited word on requests for federal assistance for five drought-stricken counties — Washington, Saratoga, Rensselaer, Albany and Schenectady. Farmers in those counties have asked permission to use soil-bank acreage, to buy surplus corn and to obtain low-interest loans.

The drought has reduced the first cutting of hay by more than one-half in most of the affected area, an Albany County agricultural official said.

Milk production also is on the decline as hay becomes more scarce, the spokesman said.

School Budget

tion included in the 1964-65 budget totaling $371,463 is made up with the following items: Private carriers—$316,410; public service corporation—$25,000; and transportation—$30,053.

The maintenance and operation of plant appropriation of $665,281 includes: actual operation and maintenance of plant—$448,674; fire insurance—$23,255; fuel and utilities—$181,220; rental—$8,700; contract, professional and technical services—$2,432; contract, operation and maintenance—$1,000.

Vols, Police Seek Missing Infant Along Neversink

CUDEBACKVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—About 400 volunteer firemen and police searched today for a 3-year-old girl who wandered away from the summer home of her father Tuesday night.

State Police brought bloodhounds from the Hawthorne, N.Y., barracks to aid in the search near this Orange County community.

The girl, Monica Mei, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armando Mei of Manhattan, was last seen near the family's summer home on Paradise Island, a 14-acre island they own in the Neversink River.

Admits Burglary

Wilfred Hahn, 32, of 79 West Union Street, after dismissal of a third degree burglary charge lodged in April, pleaded guilty in city court today to the lesser charge of malicious mischief, and was given the choice of paying a $25 fine or spending 25 days in jail. The fine was paid. It was charged that Hahn had pried off a screen and damaged a window at Carpio's Bar & Grill, 19 Mill Street, last April 21.

McKinley Defeated

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chuck McKinley, defending Wimbledon champion and the only American left in men's singles, was beaten Wednesday in the semifinals by Fred Stolle of Australia, 4-6, 10-8, 9-7, 6-4. The only American remaining in singles competition is Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., who lost to a women's semifinals Thursday.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved cautiously ahead early this afternoon.

Trading was moderately active with changes of most key issues narrow.

Brokers said traders were taking it easy because of the long Fourth of July holiday weekend ahead.

Steels, aircrafts, chemicals, utilities, rails, airlines and tobaccos were mostly ahead.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had gained .4 to 312.6 with industrials up .3, rails up .3 and utilities up .5.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 0.89 at 832.39.

Pure Oil, which received a $700-million purchase offer, spurted 6 points to 56½, a new high.

Sell With Majority
To Avoid Lonely Loss

Q: "We own 400 shares of West Coast Life Insurance stock. Nationwide Corporation has made an offer to buy all shares of the company at $50 a share. I could make a nice profit but would rather hold the shares. My husband is seriously ill and cannot help me make decisions. We have sufficient income and only wish to build an estate for our daughters." F.C.

A: I offer you my deepest sympathy on your husband's illness.

In your position, I would accept Nationwide's offer—unless you can get a better price in the open market.

I understand that a majority of your company's stockholders have signed their willingness to sell. If this is so, and you held your shares, it would leave you as part of a small minority, and the market for your shares might become quite narrow.

I advise you to switch to Republic National Life of Dallas, Texas — selling at around the same level — which has shown very fast growth and pays frequent stock dividends.

Q: "I am 67, my wife 65, with no children. We get $145 a month Social Security and have $25,000 in savings banks. We own a nice house trailer which costs us about $50 a month including utilities. What is the straight life annuity that you recommended recently? Might it be applicable in our case?" J.O.

A: When I speak of a straight life annuity, I mean one which is payable to one individual only.

If you wish to increase your income, you should consult a reputable insurance man and ask him about joint and survivorship annuities. These are figured on the combined ages of your wife and of yourself and will pay a relatively high rate of return to each of you while you live. When the surviving partner dies, no more payments are made, but in your situation, this does not seem important in contrast to the secure, guaranteed life payments.

I would leave $10,000 in the bank for contingencies.

Seranton Statement Seranton said in a statement: "I do not agree with my opponent for the Republican nomination for president of the United States that within five or 10 years our country is going to be in a 'real nuclear war' or else be subjugated without war."

"I have not given up on freedom," said Seranton. "I have not given up on America and I have not given up on maintaining the peace of the world."

Seranton and Goldwater each had met with the delegation for an hour.

Seranton said his strategy in Illinois was aimed more at public reaction. The point, he said, was to arouse the public, who in turn would influence the Illinois group before it casts the first ballot at San Francisco.

Bicycle Rider Injured Mark Greenwald, 11, of Holiday Lane, Town of Ulster, sustained a bruised knee, abrasions of the hip and lacerations of the chin and was treated at Benedictine Hospital last week, according to a report received at the sheriff's office. The collision between the car and cycle took place at the junction of Lake View and Lucas Avenues. Spaulding told Deputy Sheriff John D. Daly his car was stopped when the lad, making a turn hit the car. The boy claimed he was making a turn at the junction and was hit by the car.

Cool Air Promises Relief This Month From Drought

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Cool air swept down from the north today and held promise of relief for New Yorkers wilted by sizzling weather that closed June on a dry note.

The Weather Bureau said more high temperatures were in store today and foresaw the possibility of showers—sorely needed to dampen the water-starved eastern side of the state.

June ended in oven-like temperatures. The Weather Bureau reported temperatures ranging from the upper 80s to the upper 90s, including a record 98 degrees in Albany and record 99 degrees in New York City and in Poughkeepsie. Both were records for June 30 in those cities.

It's Up to History

The Weather Bureau held out the prospect of rain in July after an extremely dry June — if history proves true.

A survey of the 10 driest Junes on record indicated that, in most cases, the following month had normal to far above normal rainfall, the bureau said.

While conservation officials welcomed the prospect of woodlands dampened by rain, they held fears that lightning and accompanying thunderstorms, might spark new forest fires.

Lightning has been blamed for at least eight Adirondack forest fires since last Friday night.

To beef up its fire-fighting force, the State Conservation Department has rented a converted torpedo bomber and equipped it to drop water on forest fires.

Awaiting Word

Meanwhile, agricultural interests awaited word on requests for federal assistance for five drought-stricken counties — Washington, Saratoga, Rensselaer, Albany and Schenectady. Farmers in those counties have asked permission to use soil-bank acreage, to buy surplus corn and to obtain low-interest loans.

The drought has reduced the first cutting of hay by more than one-half in most of the affected area, an Albany County agricultural official said.

Milk production also is on the decline as hay becomes more scarce, the spokesman said.

School Budget

tion included in the 1964-65 budget totaling $371,463 is made up with the following items: private carriers—$316,410; public service corporation—$25,000; and transportation—$30,053.

The maintenance and operation of plant appropriation of $665,281 includes: actual operation and maintenance of plant—$448,674; fire insurance—$23,255; fuel and utilities—$181,220; rental—$8,700; contract, professional and technical services—$2,432; contract, operation and maintenance—$1,000.

Seranton said in a statement: "I do not agree with my opponent for the Republican nomination for president of the United States that within five or 10 years our country is going to be in a 'real nuclear war' or else be subjugated without war."

"I have not given up on freedom," said Seranton. "I have not given up on America and I have not given up on maintaining the peace of the world."

The Illinois delegation came out of a day-long meeting Tuesday, giving 48 of its 58 votes to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Eight delegates remained uncommitted. Two declined to make a choice.

Seranton and Goldwater each had met with the delegation for an hour.

Seranton said his strategy in Illinois was aimed more at public reaction. The point, he said, was to arouse the public, who in turn would influence the Illinois group before it casts the first ballot at San Francisco.

The Red Cross reported 275 injured and 376,897 homeless in cities and provinces of central Luzon Island hit by the typhoon. Manila declared a state of calamity and began clearing rubble and debris. QUESTION: Just how much Bodily Injury and Property Damage Insurance is a person supposed to carry these days in order to feel safe in driving?

ANSWER: Any competent insurance agent would want to know something of your individual circumstances before stating an exact amount. However, the higher limits cost very little more than basic coverage which in these days doesn't give enough protection to anyone.

Toll in Water Mounts As Heat Broils Residents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Water deaths began to mount as hot and humid weather broiled many New Yorkers again today, and browned lands in the eastern portion grew browner from a month-long drought.

While the Weather Bureau forecast thundershowers in most of the state through Thursday, and cooler air, Friday was expected to be another muggy day.

In Tuesday's oven-like temperatures, ranging up to 98 in Albany and 99 in New York City and Poughkeepsie, at least three persons perished while swimming.

At Lake Placid, Theodore Bisel, 24, of Hopewell, Kan., an actor-singer, went down in Mirror Lake. At Old Forge, Donald Cronbach, 34, of Rochester, died after being pulled from the water by youths who had heard him scream. In Syracuse, 2-year-old Sarsfield O'Connor died after a fall into a swimming pool.

The high temperatures yesterday set records in some communities, and an indication of today's scorcher was Albany's 84 at 9 a. m.

Court Will Decide Pa. Senate Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's Supreme Court prepared today to cast what may be the deciding vote in the still undetermined Democratic primary for U.S. senator held nine weeks ago.

The state's highest tribunal is meeting specially to hear an appeal on the validity of some 6,000 votes cast on the wrong line on voting machines in Philadelphia.

Its decision could determine if Justice Michael A. Musmanno or state Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt will oppose Republican Sen. Hugh Scott in the Nov. 3 election. Scott is seeking a second six-year term.

Right now, Miss Blatt holds an unofficial 460-vote edge out of more than a million votes counted.

There are 233 absentee ballots in Philadelphia declared valid after lengthy hearings. These are now being tabulated, but they are not enough to wipe out Miss Blatt's slim edge.

Musmanno backers admit that victory or defeat for the Supreme Court justice, now on leave from the bench pending final determination of his election battle, hinges on the disputed voting line Philadelphia votes.

If Delegates Stay With Him Barry Won't Need East Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater could win the Republican presidential nomination without help from the Eastern Seaboard if delegates now credited to him stay in his camp.

Most of the Arizona senator's delegate support is in a wide-swinging area encompassing the South, Southwest and West and, to a less degree, the Midwest, according to an Associated Press survey.

53 Over Figure

The survey of the 1,308 delegates to the convention opening July 13 in San Francisco credits Goldwater with 708 first-ballot votes, 53 more than the 655 needed for the nomination if he holds them.

Of this total, 44 come from 12 Northeastern states and the District of Columbia. If he had none of these he still would have enough for the nomination, barring defections.

The AP survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 257 instructed by state or district conventions, 62 personally pledged to him, and 271 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

His closest competitor, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, has 145 first ballot votes, none of which are instructed or pledged to the governor.

Here's a rundown by geographical areas, according to the AP survey:

Although he has a scattering of votes in most of them, Goldwater so far has mustered only 11 per cent of the 355 delegate votes allotted to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

In his own Southwest, the senator has a perfect score—all of the 108 delegates in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

Freighter Aground

ALEXANDRIA, BAY, N.Y. (AP)—A 26,500-ton Canadian freighter ran aground today in the St. Lawrence River about three miles north of here.

No one was reported injured. The vessel suffered damage to its hull, the Coast Guard said. The freighter is owned by Canadian Steamship Lines Ltd. of Montreal.

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—A shallow pocket of gas puffed into a giant blowtorch, touching off the worst disaster in the history of offshore oil drilling Tuesday, leaving 20 men feared dead.
"There was fire everywhere," said L. C. Franks, one of the 25 survivors. "If hell is any worse, I don't want to go there."
The terrific pre-dawn explosion and fire collapsed the C. P. Baker, a $6-million floating oil rig and sent it plunging 180 feet to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.
Two bodies were recovered. An intensive search found no trace of 18 men.

One and one-third inches of rain fell in the Wichita, Kan., area, and more than one inch was reported at Panama City, Fla.

In the East, New York farmers asked federal aid in five counties where the May-June rainfall was the lowest on record.

QUESTION: Just how much Bodily Injury and Property Damage Insurance is a person supposed to carry these days in order to feel safe in driving?

ANSWER: Any competent insurance agent would want to know something of your individual circumstances before stating an exact amount. However, the higher limits cost very little more than basic coverage which in these days doesn't give enough protection to anyone.

Toll in Water Mounts As Heat Broils Residents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Water deaths began to mount as hot and humid weather broiled many New Yorkers again today, and browned lands in the eastern portion grew browner from a month-long drought.

While the Weather Bureau forecast thundershowers in most of the state through Thursday, and cooler air, Friday was expected to be another muggy day.

In Tuesday's oven-like temperatures, ranging up to 98 in Albany and 99 in New York City and Poughkeepsie, at least three persons perished while swimming.

Meanwhile, police and firemen searched for 3-year-old Monica Mei, who disappeared near her family's summer home on Paradise Island in the Neversink River, west of Middletown.

At Lake Placid, Theodore Bisel, 24, of Hopewell, Kan., an actor-singer, went down in Mirror Lake. At Old Forge, Donald Cronbach, 34, of Rochester, died after being pulled from the water by youths who had heard him scream. In Syracuse, 2-year-old Sarsfield O'Connor died after a fall into a swimming pool.

The high temperatures yesterday set records in some communities, and an indication of today's scorching was Albany's 84 at 9 a.m.

Court Will Decide

Pa. Senate Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's Supreme Court prepared today to cast what may be the deciding vote in the still undetermined Democratic primary for U.S. senator held nine weeks ago.

The state's highest tribunal is meeting specially to hear an appeal on the validity of some 6,000 votes cast on the wrong line on voting machines in Philadelphia.

Its decision could determine if Justice Michael A. Musmanno or state Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt will oppose Republican Sen. Hugh Scott in the Nov. 3 election. Scott is seeking a second six-year term.

Right now, Miss Blatt holds an unofficial 460-vote edge out of more than a million votes counted.

There are 233 absentee ballots in Philadelphia declared valid after lengthy hearings. These are now being tabulated, but they are not enough to wipe out Miss Blatt's slim edge.

Musmanno backers admit that victory or defeat for the Supreme Court justice, now on leave from the bench pending final determination of his election battle, hinges on the disputed wrong line Philadelphia votes.

If Delegates Stay With Him Barry Won't Need East Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater could win the Republican presidential nomination without help from the Eastern Seaboard if delegates now credited to him stay in his camp.

Most of the Arizona senator's delegate support is in a wide-swinging arc encompassing the South, Southwest and West and, to a less degree, the Midwest, according to an Associated Press survey.

53 Over Figure

The survey of the 1,308 delegates to the convention opening July 13 in San Francisco credits Goldwater with 708 first-ballot votes, 53 more than the 655 needed for the nomination if he holds them.

Of this total, 44 come from 12 Northeastern states and the District of Columbia. If he had none of these he still would have enough for the nomination, barring defections.

The AP survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 237 instructed by state or district conventions, 62 personally pledged to him, and 271 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

His closest competitor, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, has 145 first ballot votes, none of which are instructed or pledged to the governor.

Here's a rundown by geographical areas, according to the AP survey: Although he has a scattering of votes in most of them, Goldwater so far has mustered only 11 per cent of the 355 delegate votes allotted to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

In his own Southwest, the senator has a perfect score—all of the 108 delegates in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

Trees Block Vision

Deputy Sheriff Vincent Van Demark and Michael Polhemus investigated a two-car accident at New Salem Road and Schultz Lane in Town of Esopus Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. Cars operated by Elmer L. Mead Jr., 19, of Route 5, Box 334, Kingston, and William M. Hawkins, 26, of Rt. 5, Box 271, Kingston, were in collision. Both drivers escaped injury. They reported they were unable to see each other because of trees at the intersection which blocked vision.

Freighter Aground

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y. (AP)—A 26,500-ton Canadian freighter ran aground today in the St. Lawrence River about three miles north of here. The Coast Guard said the 730-foot Whitefish Bay was bound for Montreal with a cargo of grain when it apparently strayed from the main channel near Whiskey Island shoal.

No one was reported injured. The vessel suffered damage to its hull, the Coast Guard said. The freighter is owned by Canadian Steamship Lines Ltd. of Montreal.

Worst Oil Disaster

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—A shallow pocket of gas puffed into a giant blowtorch, touching off the worst disaster in the history of offshore oil drilling Tuesday, leaving 20 men feared dead.

"There was fire everywhere," said L. C. Franks, one of the 25 survivors. "It hell is any worse, I don't want to go there."

The terrific pre-dawn explosion and fire collapsed the C. P. Baker, a $6-million floating oil rig and sent it plunging 180 feet to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.

Two bodies were recovered. An intensive search found no trace of 18 men.
